BLOODY VICTORY AT TELISSU: RUSSIANS ROUTED BY JAPANESE

14 GUNS CAPTURED

Vladivostok Squadron Sinks Two Japanese Transports Off Iki Island.

ONE THOUSAND TROOPS LOST

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Tokyo, June 16.—A sweeping victory on land and severe losses on the sea were the tidings that greeted the dwellers in the Japanese capital today, but the news of the victory has softened the sorrow occasioned by the havoc wrought by the Vladivostok squadron in the Straits of Korea.

Stakelberg has been defeated at Telissu. The transports Hitachi and Sado have been sunk by Skrydloff's fleet off Iki island, and nearly 1,000 men lost.

There was great rejoicing when the news was received of the defeat of Gen. Stakelberg's forces at Telissu, on the Manchurian railroad, 50 miles north of Kinchau and 25 miles north of Vafangow. The report states that the Russians left more than 500 dead on the field and the Japanese captured 300 prisoners and 14 quick-firing field guns. The rout of the Russians was complete and they were forced to retreat in disorder toward the north.

One peculiarity of the Japanese reports is that the name of the commander who won the victory is not announced, although it is believed to be Gen Nozu.

Japanese Losses Heavy.

The Japanese losses were heavy, some estimates placing them as high as 1,000 men killed or wounded, but it is believed here that an end has been put to any attempts to aid the Port Arthur garrison, and it is believed that Gen. Stakelberg will be unable to regain the main Russian force, but will be caught in the rear and crushed by Gen. Kuroki's army.

The Japanese attacking force was divided into right and left columns and began the advance on Tuesday along both sides of the railroad. They encountered the Russians east of Wafandien and drove them back. At a late hour in the afternoon, the Russians held a line between Lung-Wang-Tiao and Ta-Fang-Shen. The Japanese artillery opened on this line and the Russians responded. The shelling continued for two hours, and it was followed by the advance of the Japanese line to a position extending from Lung-Chia-Tung to Yu-Hotun. Darkness put an end to the fighting and the Japanese dispatched a column to the eastward, towards Fuchau, for the purpose of covering the Russian right wing and to protect their left and rear.

General Attack Planned.

During the night it became apparent that the Russians were being reinforced and it was decided to make a general attack in the morning and force the Russians into a defile back of Telissu. When morning came, it was discovered that the Russians held a line extending from Ta-Fang-Shen to Cheng-Tsu-Shan, with a force estimated at more than two divisions.

The Japanese planned to envelope the Russians near Telissu and they succeeded admirably. While the main Japanese force was moving north, along the railroad, columns were swung to the left and to the right and finally converged at noon on the main Russian position. The Russians in this position were at the disadvantage, but they held it with determination until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. At this hour they were routed. The Japanese cavalry continued to pursue the enemy and probably inflicted considerable punishment. Among the Russian officers captured by the Japanese is the colonel of the Fourth regiment of rifles.

Flag Was Violated.

The Japanese charge that the Russians violated the Japanese flag. Certain officers aver that during the fighting a body of Russian soldiers appeared carrying a Japanese flag and that the Japanese artillery, deceived by this flag, ceased firing on that particular body of Russians. Official dispatches from the Japanese commanders made specific charges of this flag violation.

A detachment of the army under Gen. Kuroki captured the town of Siuyen on Sunday, after routing and defeating a force of 300 Russians and 300 mounted Chinese bandits. The enemy retired toward the Tao river, leaving behind them three dead and two wounded men belonging to the Fifteenth East Siberian regiment. The total of their losses is not known.

The Japanese sustained no casualties. This is the first actual report of Chinese bandits fighting with Russian troops and it may mean that the Russians have enlisted large numbers of these irregulars.

Sorrow in St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 16.—The popular disappointment felt in St. Petersburg over the result of Lieut.-Gen. Baron Stakelberg's fight which it had been hoped for the past 36 hours might turn out to be a victory, is tempered somewhat by the knowledge that the Russian force was overwhelmed by numbers. Gen. Stakelberg does not attempt to conceal the seriousness of his losses, but his report and the reports from all other Russian sources agree that the retreat was in no sense a rout.

The war office announces that greatly superior numbers necessitated the retreat and that Gen. Stakelberg fell back on Vantsialin, 30 miles north of Vafangow.

The fierce character of the fight is made evident by the fact that the Russians were again forced to abondon their guns, thus indicating as in previous encounters the superiority of the Japanese artillery.

The Russian official reports of the

VICE PRESIDENTIAL BOOMS ARE KEPT ALIVE AT CHICAGO

Senator Cullom Revives Enthusiasm for Congressman Hitt.

SOME ELKINS TALK

Penrose Firm in His Conviction That Fairbanks Is the Popular Choice.

FIGHT AGAINST CORTELYOU

By CHESTER D. POTTER.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 16.—Senator Cullom today renewed the boom for Congressman Hitt for the vice presidential nomination.

"Illinois Republicans will be for Congressman Hitt for the vice presidency and Senator Fairbanks will not be in the running," said Senator Cullom. "Before Mr. Hitt went east I asked him to see just what was behind the Fairbanks candidacy. He sent me a telegram which convinces me that the Indiana senator has no chance whatsoever. Hitt is the favorite in a great many states other than Illinois. He is possessed of a charming personality, is a man of large affairs, would create additional enthusiasm for the ticket, and I believe would be very acceptable to President Roosevelt."

There is still considerable talk of Senator Elkin of West Virginia, but his friends say that the time is not yet ripe for high tension effort. They are playing a waiting game. Some word is expected from the president. This will probably be brought by Senator Lodge. Just who has been representing Mr. Roosevelt here up to the present time is in doubt. Elmer Dover, secretary of the national committee, is said to have acted in this capacity.

Victory for Addicks.

There is little doubt that the president's wishes have been followed in the adjustment of the contest settled today. In the Louisiana and Mississippi cases the "black and tans" scored in each instance. The "lily whites" received no consideration. In the Delaware contest J. Edward Addicks won a single victory. He was indorsed by the committee unanimously. Mr. Addicks was unmistakably jubilant. Immediately upon the announcement of the decision in his favor he went into the ante-room and grasped United States Senator James F. Allen and the two did a modern cake-walk.

The Wisconsin contest, by far the most important of any pending, will be taken up tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Chairman Payne had sufficiently recovered from his indisposition yesterday to be able to preside at the national committee meeting today. Because of personal interest in the Wisconsin matter he has asked Senator Scott to take the chair tomorrow.

Senator Penrose tonight reiterated his belief that Senator Fairbanks was still the popular choice for the vice presidential nomination. The Pennsylvania senator said that while he had heard other names mentioned, none of them thus far seemed to be making any particular

HEAVY PALL OF SORROW HANGS OVER SCHOOLS

Hundreds of Pupils Missing, and Others Lost Relatives and Friends.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 16.—When the public schools closed this evening Supt. Maxwell had received reports from 6 of the 13 public schools in and near the district in which St. Mark's church is situated. The following shows the number of missing: No. 25, Fifth street, 110; No. 71, 188 Seventh street, 14; No. 35, 326 Tenth street, 141; No. 126, 536 East Twelfth street (at least) 30; No. 105, 269 East Fourth street, 11; No. 36 (boys' school), 710 Ninth street, 6 (includes one teacher); No. 15, 728 Fifth street, 3. The schools not reporting are said to be the most heavily affected by the Slocum disaster.

A heavy pall of sorrow hung today over public school 25, on Fifth street, near First avenue, which is the center of the residence district most affected by the Slocum disaster. Of the 2,000 pupils of the school, a large portion were relatives of the excursionists, and between 250 and 300 of the regular attendants did not appear today. Of this number, Principal Robbins said that 110 had obtained permission on Tuesday to be absent yesterday to go on the excursion.

Scores of boys and girls appeared in their class rooms this morning, their eyes red with weeping, and asked to be excused because a brother or a sister or some other relative had been lost.

CORTELYOU ARRIVES TO INVESTIGATE DISASTER

NEW YORK, June 16.—George B. Cortelyou, secretary of commerce and labor, in whose department is included the United States steamboat inspection service, arrived here tonight to give personal direction to the investigation of the disaster. He was in conference up to a late hour with Robert S. Rodie, supervising inspector. No one else was present at this meeting, because the secretary stated that, first of all and first handed, he wished to have Mr. Rodie's complete report of the situation.

EXPECT TO FIND 500 MORE BODIES

NEW YORK, June 16.—(Special.)—Inspector Albertson said today that he expected that 500 more bodies would be found. "But they're up and down the river for miles," he said. "We'll be finding them for three weeks, but there are no more in the wreck."

INSPECTION OF SHIPS IS SEVERE

The General Slocum's Life Preservers Are Believed to Have Been Made of Reeds.

NOT MANUFACTURED HERE

"While I cannot speak with certainty, the life preservers aboard the General Slocum may have been in a decayed condition, and consequently unfit for service," said C. D. Armstrong, general manager of the Armstrong Cork Company last evening. This company manufactures the greater bulk of cork preservers used by the United States navy, and by American vessels, both sea-going and river. There is no record, however, to show that the preservers on the Slocum were made here.

"From the description given in the newspaper accounts," continued Mr. Armstrong, "it would seem that many of the Slocum's life preservers were in a rotten condition and filled with 'straw,' as one of the witnesses described. This is not straw, but a peculiar reed known as 'tule.' It is grown in California, and years ago was used extensively in making preservers, but I do not think preservers made of tule have been sold in the east within the past six years. The reed has great buoyancy. They are cut in lengths of 12 inches and sewn in the pockets. If kept from the influence of dampness or mildew they will last for some time, but once exposed they break and crumble.

LIST OF DEAD REACHES 536

Another 500 of Slocum's Passengers Missing and May Be Lost

DIVERS SEARCH HULL

Shores of River and Sound Are Patrolled for Miles That More Bodies May Be Found.

FUNERALS TO BEGIN TODAY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 16.

That a thousand persons perished in the disaster to the General Slocum is the belief of the officials who are caring for the dead and ministering to the injured. Five hundred and thirty-six bodies have been recovered at North Brother island. Of these 502 were sent to the Bellevue morgue. In all there are now 273 unidentified dead.

Forty-one bodies were recovered today from the waters surrounding the wreck of the steamboat. The list of missing is estimated at about 500, while in the hospitals are 50, all of whom save two have been identified, and all of whom are expected to recover.

All day long from sunrise until darkness shut off even the melancholy satisfaction of watching for the dead, anxious searchers kept up their eternal vigilance. The East Side has its human sympathies aroused to the fullest extent, and down by the river, where the boats unloaded their dead, thousands gathered throughout the day. Streets leading to the morgue were blocked and only with difficulty could the police keep clear the passages leading to the long rows of coffins for those who came to search for the missing.

Searching for the Dead.

Up the sound where the hulk of the Gen. Slocum lies submerged showing only a paddle box, scores of small craft aided the tugs in grappling for the victims. Divers went down time and time again and when their work ended for the day they declared there were no more bodies in the werck. A score of times a diver reappeared after his plunge, with the body of a woman or a child. Two of them coming to the surface together on one occasion carried in their arms little girls, sisters, clasped in each other's embrace, and their mother, it was thought, whose dead hand tightly clenched the skirt of one of them.

As far as come within their power the divers searched the wreck from stem to stern, but there were masses of broken timbers through which it was almost impossible to explore, and it may be that some will find a grave under those sunken timbers until the hulk is raised or the waters of the sound wash away the last trace of the wreckage.

At this point the water is deep and the currents are swift, and beyond a doubt many have been borne along with the tides, to be given up at a later day at some distant point.

Some May Yet Be Safe.

There are a number of places where the living may have landed, and it is believed that many that are now reported missing, are safe, and eventually will be heard from by the officials who have the rescue work in hand. Indeed, tonight a surprising number of persons reported to these officials that they had been saved, thus cutting the list of missing down considerably, as well as the probable mortality list.

Many persons were injured in the panic that followed the breaking out of flames on the General Slocum, and at least 200 persons were taken to the hospitals. Not a death has occurred so far among these and many of them have already been discharged.

Perhaps the most remarkable case in the many appalling experiences of those who were on the Slocum was that of Miss Clara Hartman, who was picked up for dead, towed behind a boat for several miles, wrapped in a tarpaulin and tagged as dead, and then recovered consciousness at the Alexander avenue police station. It is now believed she will recover.

The coroner's investigation to fix the responsibility of the disaster will begin on Monday next. The federal authorities as well as the district attorney also will hold an investigation, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, through its counsel, has signified its intention to push the inquiry to the utmost.

The shores of the river and sound for miles on either side of North Brothers island, where the death steamer went ashore, is carefully patroled. The swift running tide has made this necessary. The water is giving up its dead and the ghastly row of coffins at the morgue is steadily increasing. New bodies are coming in faster than the relatives of the dead recognize their dear ones and take them away.

Scenes at the Morgue.

The scenes about the morgue have been heartrending. Great crowds of stricken people have gathered about the place since the first bodies were brought down last night, and have eagerly sought their dead. Crazed with the horror of it some have sought to take their own lives and others have become temporarily maniacs.

Agonized relatives of the persons who perished in the burning steamboat broke through the police lines by sheer weight of numbers late this afternoon and tried to force their way onto the pier at the foot of East Twenty-sixth street, where the bodies of the victims recovered were lying.

With the object of punishing those responsible for the frightful loss of life in the disaster, District Attorney Jerome and Coroner Berry made significant moves this afternoon.

A quantity of life preservers were taken to Mr. Jerome's office, and Coroner Berry issued subpoenaes for 15 members of the crew of the Slocum.

The city authorities have taken steps to relieve the living and to properly care r the dead victims of the disaster. It probable a general public funeral will held for all the unidentified dead.

ll of the Lutheran ministers in the y will meet at St. Mark's tomorrow rning at 10 o'clock to arrange for a ster funeral of the victims. It is ght that the funerals will begin to- rrow and continue uninterruptedly from morning to night until the last of the unfortunate excursionists has been laid to rest.

This evening the body of a girl of 8 years, which was declared by neighbors to be that of the little daughter of Henry Heinz of Front street, was washed up against the side of a pier at the foot of Clinton street in the East river, hardly a block away from the girl's home. The tide by a strange vagary had carried the little body from the scene of the calamity of North Brother island down through the narrow channels of the river to this point so near her home. The girl's mother, Mrs. Annie Heinz, is among the dead.

It was a day of persistent, systematic search, with the police and all other departments working harmoniously on the water or anywhere and everywhere their mournful duty called them. It was a day that saw the pier heads of the Bronx for hours black with morbid humanity; that saw the water alive with small craft, kept in check only by the most vigilant police supervision, and, strangest of all, it was a day that saw steamboat after steamboat, jammed to the guards' rails with excursionists, pass and repass the scene, bands playing, children and young people dancing, while the elders rushed to the side to see the wreck.

HIGH SCOOOL PUPILS RECEIVE THEIR MEDALS

Four Were Presented at the Class Day Exercises by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy.

The annual class night exercises of the academic department of Pittsburgh High school was held in the chapel of the Central High school, Bedford avenue and Fulton street, last night. A crowd that packed the hall to the doors witnessed the exercises. William S. Orr was master of ceremonies and delivered the master's address. The eulogy, in which the deeds of the class were praised, was given by Miss Edith Hammett. Albert W. Shenck gave the class retrospect and an original poem was recited by George D. Hackett. Edgar L. Gastelger, the class prophet, made some weird prophecies regarding the future of the different members of the class, and L. James Sweeney read the class will, in which the juniors came in for some hard raps.

The distribution of gifts was done by John A. Price, and the presents, although not costly, created no end of amusement both to the class and audience.

One of the features was the presentation of four gold medals which had been offered to the Central board of education through the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, rabbi of the Eighth street temple. Five medals were offered, but one was not competed for this year. This is the first time in the history of the high schools of Allegheny county that such a feature has been added to the graduating exercises of the local high schools, and it will be continued from year to year. This evening at the commencement exercises of the Allegheny High school, at the Nixon theater, similar gold medals will be awarded. The medals were pinned to the breasts of the winners by Dr. Levy. They were as follows:

The Abraham Lippman gold medal, first honor prize to the graduating student whose average for the last two years of the course shall be the highest; donated by Abraham Lippman and won by Sadie Sossel.

The Rosalia Rauh gold medal, scientific essay prize for the best original essay by a member of the graduating class on a scientific theme to be selected from year to year; donated by Enoch, Marcus and Abraham L. Rauh and won by Mary Jagle.

The Samuel Wertheimer gold medal, English literature essay prize for the best original essay by a member of the graduating class on a literary theme; donated by Samuel Wertheimer and won by Margaret McMaster.

The Marcus Lester Aaron gold medal, historical essay prize for the best original essay by a member of the graduating class on a historical theme; donated by Louis I. Aaron and won by Edgar Gastelger.

The Edna S. Levy gold medal for the best original essay by a member of the graduating class on the subject, "American Liberty: Civil, Political, Religious;" donated by Mrs. J. Leonard Levy, was not contested for.

APPROVE THE COMMISION.

Announcement That Hero Fund Management Is Watching New York Affair Welcome.

The announcement in The Gazette yesterday that the hero fund commission is alive to the bearing of the calamity in the East river, New York, upon the work for which the commission was created, made a favorable impression of the latest benevolence of Andrew Carnegie.

In just what method the hero fund manager and the members of the commission will take up the investigation of the cases developed by the accident cannot be told as yet. The result of their investigation likewise remains, of course, impossible to forecast. The accident occurred before the plans and workings were all completed, but the fund had been made applicable to the cases which arise at this time.

MAYOR CALLS FOR AID FOR STRICKEN PEOPLE

Also Sends Letter to Pastor Haas Expressing Sympathy of the Whole City.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 16.—(Special.)—Mayor McClellan took official cognizance today of the steamboat horror. He issued the following proclamation this morning:

To the Citizens of New York:

The appalling disaster yesterday, by which more than 500 men, women and children lost their lives by fire and drowning, has shocked and horrified our city. Knowing the keen sympathy of the people of the city of New York with their stricken fellows, I have appointed a committee of citizens to receive contributions to a fund to provide for the fit and proper burial of the dead, and for such other relief as may be necessary.

The following gentlemen have been asked to serve on the committee: Morris K. Jesup, Jacob H. Schiff, Herman Ridder, Charles D. Dickey, Robert A. Van Courtlandt, Erskine Hewitt, Joseph C. Hendrix, Thomas Muiry, George Ehret, John Fox, John Weinacht, H. B. Scharmann.

Until the committee has had an opportunity to organize I shall be glad to receive contributions at the mayor's office.

As a sign of mourning I have ordered the flags on the city hall to be put at half-mast.

GEORGE B. M'CLELLAN, Mayor.

The following letter was sent by Mayor McClellan today:

New York, June 16, 1904.

Rev. George C. F. Haas, Pastor St. Mark's Lutheran Church, New York City:

Sir—On behalf of the people of our city and myself, I express to you and to your stricken flock the sentiments of sorrow which pervade this community at the awful calamity which has come upon you.

In the hope that we may lessen in some degree the anguish which you and your people suffer, I have appealed to the generosity of our fellow-citizens to render financial aid to those who may need it, to care for their sick and to decently bury their dead.

We all hope that courage may be given to you to bear up under your great affliction.

Respectfully,
GEORGE B. M'CLELLAN, Mayor.

mittee which once every year passes on life preservers, has legalized the use of three kinds of cork preservers. The first and most perfect and expensive is the block cork; then the cork composition, and thirdly, those of granulated cork. Of all classes we manufacture about 40,000 each year.

"Each lot, before being shipped from out factory, is inspected by a representative from the Pittsburgh office of steam vessels ,and the test is usually very rigid. The government requires that the preservers be 54 inches long and 12 inches wide with eight to 10 pockets. The cork must be two inches thick and must weigh six pounds. Each preserver must have a buoyancy of 24 pounds dead weight, and often they hold 30 pounds. The English government requires only 16 pounds. One of these preservers will float two persons easily, and one person with one or two pockets empty.

"The case is made of a coarse cotton drill, and the straps of heavy cotton material 1¼ inches wide. In fitting out a vessel preservers must be supplied to the number of the passenger-carrying capacity of the boat. I do not believe there are any provisions as to where the preservers are to be kept. On excursion craft they are usually exposed to the weather, but this does not mean they will decay. Naturally, if the drill becomes wet or moist and mildews it will rot. The life of a preserver depends, of course, on its care. Some may last a month, while others will last 30 years. The weather never affects cork, however. With the preservers filled with granulated cork there is always the danger of ripping the pockets and allowing the cork to fall out.

"Recently there have been a number of preservers made of 'kapok,' which is a cotton-like substance grown in the East Indies. The objection to this material is its inflammatory nature. I hardly think that any of these preservers were in use on the Slocum.

"I am inclined to believe that after a thorough investigation it will be found that the Solum's preservers were in good condition, but that the people were too frightened to use them. The preservers were only recently inspected, so I read, and from my knowledge of these inspections I know the Slocum was not given the benefit of any doubt."

In regard to the tule preservers, Mr. Armstrong said that the government continues to allow them to be used, but that the further sale of preservers filled with reeds is not legalized.

HEROES REFUSE TO TELL NAMES

Stories of Rescuers of Slocum Vicims Will Never All Be Told.

ONE OF THEM A CONVICT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 16.

There were so many heroes in yesterday's disaster that all their stories can never be told. No man, no group of men, can claim any more credit than another while the most of the rescue work was being done. Some few must be singled out, because none would talk about themselves and few would talk about one another.

The crew of the Franklin Edson did all that a crew could do, and the boat was badly scorched by the great heat. The tug, Fire Proofer, and the launch, Marion, did more than could have been expected of such small craft, but of all none did more than did Jack Wade and his crew, John McDonnell, Ruddy Carroll and Bob Brannigan. Filling the air with profanity as lurid as the glow of the flames, these four worked until the hair on their heads was singed and the clothes on their backs was burned off. And they did not quit until the last hope was gone. Then they stopped, as Jack Wade put it, "only to gather the dead, so the poor folks at home might not have to wait too long to find out what had become of their loved ones."

These men did not know how many persons they had saved. They could not keep count. They worked until they were exhausted, and even after that Ruddy Carroll was pushed overboard and managed to save the child of the woman who pushed him in. Carroll was lying on the rail of the Wade waiting to die of exhaustion. He had not even strength left to wipe the tears out of his eyes, for Capt. Jack Wade said that Ruddy cried and swore at once all the time he worked. A fat German woman, whom he had dragged out of the water, saw a child float by and began to scream.

"Wake up, you. Wake up," she called out to Ruddy, who did not hear her. "That's my Claus in the water," she screamed, and pushed Ruddy in.

He floundered about, opened his eyes and saw the face of a little boy before him. Instinct came to his aid and Ruddy grabbed the child, floundered back to the side of the Wade and held on to the gunwale until the German woman had got her boy.

Capt. Jack Wade and Bob Brannigan pulled Ruddy into the tug, where he smiled at them and fell over on his face unconscious.

One man, a prisoner from the penitentiary, detailed to labor on North Brother island, worked like a demon among the nurses, and saved enough lives, it would seem, to atone fully for any crime for which he might be imprisoned. Nobody seemed to know that this man had been in the work until he reported for transfer to his cell on Ward's island, and his clothes were seen to be wet. Some physicians saw him working and knew.

HUMP BONDS MAY BE VOTED DOWN

Director Bigelow Has Failed to Present the Facts to the People.

LAND OWNERS ARE ANXIOUS

The impression is general that the hump bond issue may fail at the election to be held July 12. The reason assigned is that the people who are promoting the improvement have not done anything toward presenting the question to the voters.

The South Side electors are said to be opposed to an issue of bonds for the purpose of removing the hump. They claim that they will not benefit by the change in grade of the streets, and that the property owners in the affected district should pay the bill. It is also predicted that the South Side will vote down the filtration bonds.

The ballots for the bond election are now being printed. There are separate tickets for each issue. As a result of the separation of the questions, it will be necessary to print 350,000 ballots, instead of 175,000, as was originally intended.

Expect Many Stay-at-Homes.

Even though the administration expects the South Side to vote down the bonds, it is relying upon the voters of the old city to put them through. Effort is being made to interest all workingmen in the election, on the ground that plenty of work will be afforded if the hump is cut. The friends of the measure also expect that many who would vote against the proposition will not show sufficient interest to go to the polls. The payroll will be expected to get all of those favorable to the issue to attend the election.

The chamber of commerce is preparing a statement against the hump bonds. It will probably be given out at a meeting to be held Monday. A number of men who have property in the hump district which will be benefited by the improvement have been busy lately endeavoring to secure the support of politicians who have been at best lukewarm toward the hump scheme. They have been told how Director Bigelow could make votes for the plan by simply giving the public a complete statement of what has been done and what will be done. These men have appealed to the director to do this, but so far he has not done so.

Want Bigelow to Issue Statement.

They believe that a chart of the district should be prepared, showing the present valuation of the property and what it will be after the improvement is made. It is claimed that it can be shown that the increase will be so great that the enlarged revenue in taxation from the affected district will pay the big end of the improvement, in case Director Bigelow's estimate of the cost is correct. It is also desired that he make some statement covering the damages and benefits which will be assessed. Men versed in real estate say that property valuation in Fifth avenue in the hump district will be jumped about $2,000 a foot front.

Bigelow has tried to induce the commissioners to agree to sign waivers for the county property. He was told that no release would be given unless there was a change made in the grade. He declined to alter the proposed grade. It is understood that a number of people had agreed to sign waivers if one could be gotten from the county. Several of the judges are opposed to the county relinquishing its claim for damages.

Fagan Names Cleveland.

Charles A. Fagan predicts the nomination of Grover Cleveland by the Democrats. Controller John B. Larkin says that such action by the St. Louis convention would not be surprising. The election of Cleveland would bring William F. Harrity into prominence again. For this reason it is considered doubtful whether Col. Guffey would feel inclined to assist in the Cleveland boom. They were not the best of friends during the president's last administration, having disagreed over some appointments. Harrity would be handicapped, however, as he issued a statement sometime ago in which he said that no Democrat could be elected this year.

The local delegation to the Republican national convention will leave for Chicago this evening on the 7:30 o'clock train over the Pennsylvania. The party will number about 84, and travel in three special P[illegible] cars. N. E. Graham of East [illegible] delegate from the Twenty-s[illegible]gressional district, went to Chic[illegible] night. He says that he favor[illegible]elt for president, Fairbanks for vi[illegible]dent and Penrose for national [illegible]an.

Judge [illegible]enna of the Porto Rican district co[illegible]nnounced yesterday that he would h[illegible] no appointments to make. The plac[illegible] are all filled by natives. This dashes the hopes of "Ajax" Jones and "X. X." Orten, who had expected lucrative positions.

LOCAL ELKS GIVE DELIGHTFUL SHOW

Amateur Minstrelmen Amused Big Crowd at the Nixon for Sweet Charity's Sake.

A rousing big amateur minstrel entertainment was given at the Nixon theater last night by Pittsburgh lodge No. 11, B. P. O. Elks, for the benefit of their charity fund. They employed all home talent and gave a splendid performance. They showed that they had been painstaking in their rehearsals, and the show moved along as smoothly as if the minstrel men were professionals with a combination six months out. To witness this entertainment was one of the largest audiences that has graced the new theater. But it was an auspicious occasion, as Brother Tom Kirk said—the first minstrel company to appear at the Nixon.

Brother James P. Dunlevy was the manager. Edward W. Gibson was stage director. Lawrence H. Blackford was musical director and James V. Moan looked after the properties. All covered themselves with glory. Mr. Dunlevy was also interlocutor. The tambos were Rody McCutcheon, William H. Hahn, Jim J. McCarthy and Edward M. Bonnell, while [illegible] Gibson, Con Yeager, Bert Ream [illegible] H. King rattled the bones. And [illegible]overed themselves with glory. Part [illegible]pened with a number of up-to-date [illegible] songs, which were sung with ex[illegible] effect by the big male chorus. [illegible]rs George and Jerry Dunlevy made [illegible]rst hit of the evening with a clever [illegible] song. Then followed rattling good solos by Mr. Gibson, Mr. Yeager, Arthur T. Dunlevy, H. Stanley Evans, Mr. Gibson, David J. Davies, Mr. McCutcheon and Mr. Dunlevy. The closing chorus in the first part was made doubly attractive by a tableau disclosing Uncle Sam standing by the Stars and Stripes with a platoon of soldiers, William W. Hobinson taking the part of your uncle.

In the second part those who appeared in the vaudeville bill were Lynn Welcher, who explained the "Whenceness of What;" Miss Charlotte Tompkins, in a clever monologue; L. Jerome Mora, who performed some illusions in magic; Edward C. Dillon, a song and dance artist; the Elks' sextet in a clever little sketch; Dal Jeffries, a marvelous bag-puncher; Tommy Dixon, the youthful Paderewski, and Edward Bonnell, who did surprising stunts on the autoharp. The singing of the chorus was the star feature of the entertainment. The audience had appreciation to burn, and every entertainer on the program received generous applause—and flowers.

Putting in New Telephones.

The work of installing new Bell telephone instruments on the signal service lines of the department of public safety to supplant the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company's instruments now in use was begun yesterday. Owing to the rivalry between the two corporations, the instruments are furnished cheaper this year than ever before. The bid of the Bell company was $5 a year for each instrument.

LINKING UP BIG 'PHONE SYSTEM

Last Connections Being Made by Independent Companies Over Wide Range.

FAST WORK IN THE TUBE CITY

Within two months at the utmost a Pittsburgher can talk over an independent telephone line with friends at any of the Atlantic coast summer resorts in New Jersey, with Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Baltimore, Johnstown, Akron, Wheeling, Indianapolis, Columbus, St. Louis, Kansas City and thousands of intermediate points.

The last connecting links of the system covering the eastern and central western parts of the United States with a network of independent lines are being built. For the connection with the east there remains now but a short stretch east of Johnstown. For the western connections a line straight as the crow flies is well under way to Wheeling, connecting there with the People's Telephone Company. From Wheeling a line is to be built to Barnesville, there connecting with existing lines of the United States Telephone Company. The line extends across Ohio to New Carlisle, on the western side of the state. From New Carlisle to a point just over the border in Indiana another new line will be built, connecting with Indianapolis and with other western cities.

The local independent company — the Pittsburgh and Allegheny — is taking a prominent part in this extension work. It ranks as one of the largest single concerns, and the recent trip of the capitalists back of it through the west resulted in the formation of close working arrangements with its fellow independents.

The Pittsburgh and Allegheny has entered McKeesport within the past month with a telephone proposition which is new here. Without any charge a telephone is installed in house or office. It is operated with a slot, and for five cents a call local or county service is given. The company is ending the first month of its campaign with 1,000 subscribers in the Tube City.

GREAT TIME IN STORE FOR FILIPINO GUESTS

Councilmanic Committee Prepares Full Program of Strenuous Sightseeing.

When the Filipinos get through the day's entertainment and sightseeing provided for them by the councilmanic committee that will have charge of them during their visit in Pittsburgh, they will be hungry and tired and appreciative of the banquet which will be set before them in the evening. The committee met last night and prepared an itinerary for the two days' stay of the Philippine islanders, and a glance at it will show that a busy time is in store for them.

The Filipinos will stay here two days, arriving in Pittsburgh on June 27. They will be met at the Union station by the committee at 7:30 a. m., and from there they will be taken in street cars to the Hotel Schenley, their headquarters, where they will have breakfast. They will then be taken to the East Liberty railroad station, where they will board the train for East Pittsburgh to visit the plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. From East Pittsburgh they will go to Braddock to inspect the rail mill. Luncheon will be served on the train on the way to Charleroi, where the plant of the United States Glass Company will be visited. From Charleroi the party will go to Glassport, to see the plate glass works, and thence to Duquesne and Homestead to visit the steel and armor plate plants.

At 7:30 p. m. the Filipinos will be entertained at a banquet in the Hotel Schenley. Covers will be laid for 300, to include the 50 Filipinos, members of councils, the mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and their cabinets, the judges of the courts and about two representatives each of the Chamber of Commerce; Merchants and Manufacturers' association and various boards of trade; a few clergymen, the judges of the courts and a few representative men from various walks of life.

On June 28 the Filipinos will be taken to Ambridge to see the bridge works. A steamboat will meet the delegation at Davis Island dam, whence a trip up the Monongahela river will be taken, showing the strangers a panoramic view of Pittsburgh's manufactories. The Filipinos will leave Pittsburgh at 10:30 p. m.

The trips indicated will be taken on a special train provided by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The river journey will probably be on the steamboat Mayflower.

The councilmanic committee will meet again on Monday at 7 p. m. It was decided last night to have 200 badges made at a cost of 75 cents each.

BELIEVE IN BETTER WAGES.

Two Factions Among Taxpayers Are Signing Teachers' Petition.

In obedience to the instructions of the board of managers of the teachers' association, the members have begun to seek the signatures of taxpayers and voters to the teachers' request for an increase of salary. Nearly everybody approached is ready to sign the petition and it is expected that 91,800 signatures will be obtained.

Various reasons actuate the signers. They believe the salaries are too small on general principles, and others think increasing the salaries will induce young men to apply for places as teachers and thus relieve the teachers' lists of the preponderance of women.

In this connection there is much talk of the remark of the famous English educator, who said he had detected in the makeup of the graduates of the public schools a "note of effeminacy," due, he thought, to the fact that public children are taught almost exclusively by women. Supporters of the present system declare the English educator to be in the wrong, but others approve what he has said. Both parties sign the papers, however, although actuated by different reasons.

Contract Let for Mine Equipment.

The new Pittsburgh and Eastern Coal Company, which is operating three large shaft mines into the lower Pittsburgh seam coal at Burgettstown, has awarded contracts for the material for the new power house, mine offices and tipples. The contracts call for 250,000 buff waterproof brick, to be furnished by the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company.

Queen Quality Shoes and Oxfords for Women

The thousands upon thousands of women who wear these splendid shoes are an army of witnesses as to their wonderful fitting qualities.

No shoes ever fitted like these. Easy from the first moment and shapely to the last day. The manufacturers spent much time and thought on the subject of fit. It was not enough that they should look nice.

Many women, before Queen Quality shoes appeared on the scene, did not expect shoes that were comfortable to the foot to look nice. Nor did those who favored stylefulness first expect a handsome shoe to be comfortable.

Not so with Queen Quality. Here you have both in the fullest degree. And not only for one particular style of foot. Every shaped foot has been provided for. The long, narrow foot, the short foot with high instep and the slender foot with arched instep. And every one will look its best in Queen Quality.

Yet with all their traits of excellence they cost less than other shoes.

Oxfords, $2.50 and $3.00 a pair.
Boots, $3.00 and $3.50 a pair.

Another point—don't for one moment conclude that attention has been given to workmanship only. Far from it. Every bit of material entering into these famous shoes is the best.

The finest leathers and the most fashionable leathers, black and tan, dull and shiny.

NOTE:—We are the sole agents for Queen Quality shoes in the Greater City.

Special Low Prices for Black Silks Today.

After all is said and done, what's so handsome or so stylish as the handsome black silk gown? Both the matron and the maid looks her best in a stylish black silk dress. It may be that a glossy black is not becoming, whereas a dull finish would see the wearer at her best. And so it is.

At $1.25 we offer $1.65 Black Crepe Batiste, 40 inches wide, a soft, rich finished crepe all silk.

At 58c a yard we offer 75c Black Tourist Silk—this is a silk designed for service, as the name implies.

At 65c a yard, 85c Black Louisine—this grade is especially nice for either waists or shirtwaist suits.

COLORED SILKS—The special today in colored silks is a new silk that the manufacturer has named "Perfection Silk." It comes in all desirable colorings with contrasting embroidered rings, dots and conventional designs. This silk is made to retail at $1.00 a yard, yet we offer it today for 68c.

Fine Artificial Plants for Ridiculous Prices.

Ridiculous in that they are so far from the real worth of the plants. But there's a reason for all things and for this.

Every season we buy a most lavish supply of these green plants to decorate for our Millinery opening. Inasmuch as we can't carry them all the rest of the year, as they occupy considerable space and as they have served their purpose, we sell them for far below what they'd cost if bought in a regular way.

We have put them all on the first floor, West, and offer them for sale at these prices—

50c plants for 15c.
75c plants for 25c.
$1.00 plants for 50c.
$1.50 plants for 75c.
$2.00 plants for $1.00
$3.00 plants for $1.50.

Nearly Half Prices for Cotton Waists.

Don't take this to mean that you may have any cotton waist in the store for half price. The offer applies to certain lines only. But in those lines, taken as a whole, there's enough choice to please the most exacting.

At $2.50, a regular $5.00 value—Waists of ecru batiste trimmed with white Swiss embroidery—buttoned down the back—full sleeves, self stock.

At $3.00, regularly $3.50 and up to $5.00—Waists of white lawn and embroidered Swiss in colors. Taking the collection as a whole, every size is here from 32 to 44, but there is not every size in both styles.

50c Mousseline Ribbon, 25c a Yard.

Bright and new and just in, together with a lot of other new arrivals to the ribbon counter. 5 inches wide, which is a proper width for making those pretty soft girdles that are so much worn now. At this price one should have a girdle to match every Summer frock.

If you don't care to bother with making a girdle, leave us your measure and an order, and we'll make you one in short order, and make it to your liking, too.

Women's Linen Handkerchiefs, 8c Each.

Add to the above that they're not only linen, but a good quality of linen, and have hand-embroidered initial. Would you expect to get such a handkerchief for 8c? Unlaundered, of course. If they were laundered you'd pay more for them—say as much again.

At 12½c, worth 18c—Women's pure Linen Handkerchiefs—choice from ½-inch, ¼-inch and ⅛-inch.

At 8c, a lot of Linen Handkerchiefs without initial—these are nicely hemstitched and choice is from sheer or heavy cloth.

The Famous La Vida Corsets.

If you do not already know this splendid corset, make its acquaintance at once.

We couldn't begin to tell you its many excellencies, but we'll tell you some.

About fit, for instance. The manufacturer borrowed many of the best ideas from leading Paris corsetieres. Added to this is American inventive genius, and the fact that in every point of the making it was always the American woman's figure which was considered.

Is it any wonder then that La Vida is such a superior corset?

Inspect them for yourself. See the unlimited amount of goring which makes possible the closest fit and the utmost ease. Then take into consideration the quality of materials used. The filling entirely of pure whalebone, despite the scarcity and present high cost of this substance, the finest coutils and satins, the daintiest of trimmings.

And a style for every figure—for her of the svelte figure, for the woman who is fast inclining to embonpoint and for the average build.

Porch Swings and Porch Rockers.

There's a lot of Summer comfort in a porch when it is properly appointed with Rockers and Swing and Cushions and other accessories to outdoor comfort. And what's a porch without them? A name, that's all. The comfort has fled and the occupants soon follow.

Large comfortable porch Rockers, maple frames, reed seats and backs, $2.25 each.

Porch Swings—another lot of those fine reed swings with chains complete. Natural shellac or greeen finish. $15.00.

And if these are not fine enough to please you, others as fine as they make them at $18.00, $25.00, $30.00 and $32.00.

On sale, fifth floor, Furniture Dept.

Lace Mitts and Silk Gloves for Women.

As to the mitts, just such ones as our grandmothers wore, black and white, wrist and elbow length, a dainty accompaniment to the fluffy and beflounced Summer dresses. 75c and $1.00 qualities, 50c a pair.

We have a full line of the finest grades in lace mitts, which are the proper caper for young girl graduates.

Kayser and Ivanhoe Silk Gloves, with double finger tips, in black, white, tan and gray, at 50c, 75c and $1.00 a pair.

Friday, June 17, 1904.

With the General Slocum disaster before them, thousands of persons all over the country are doubtless saying that never again will they permit themselves or their children to participate in a boat excursion. Nevertheless it is certain that the lessons of the Hell Gate horror will be taken to heart as much by steamboat proprietors as by the public, and that travel on pleasure craft hereafter will be made safer than ever before. The Iroquois disaster caused a general overhauling and remodeling of theaters throughout the country. Similarly, one effect of the New York tragedy will undoubtedly be to cause authorities and shipowners to take the most rigid precautions that safety can suggest to make a repetition of such a calamity a hundred-fold more improbable.

There is an apparent disposition in the Republican national committee to dispute the wisdom of President Roosevelt's choice of Secretary Cortelyou for national chairman. The dissent is wholly on the ground of lack of experience on the part of Mr. Cortelyou. No doubt if another Quay or another Hanna could be secured it would be better, but it must be remembered that lack of experience was charged against both of those powerful leaders when they first assumed the duties of chairman of the national committee. The president probably knows the capabilities of Mr. Cortelyou better than any of his critics and he appears more than satisfied. But whoever is chosen for chairman should have the benefit of the advice and counsel of all the leaders. The chairman's business is often the selection of the best advisers.

Mississippi and Arkansas Democrats have instructed their delegates for Judge Parker of New York, increasing his margin as leading candidate against the field. He will, apparently, go into the national convention at St. Louis, nearly 100 votes stronger than Mr. Hearst who is his nearest competitor, but he will be several hundred votes short of the two-thirds necessary to nominate. Probably more than one-half of all the delegates will reach the convention uninstructed. Naturally all minor elements will tend to unite against the leader and thus Judge Parker's strength may prove, paradoxically, to be his weakness. It is in this contingency that Grover Cleveland, Robert E. Pattison, Arthur P. Gorman, Judge George E. Gray or another may be forced to the front and nominated. There is yet no certainty about the St. Louis convention.

While the coroner's inquest must be awaited to determine the responsibility for the excursion steamer disaster, many things are coming to light that contributed to the horror of the situation. Many life preservers were rotten, from age and disuse. The hose with which the crew attempted to control the fire, though new, was rotten and burst under the pressure. It should have been tested, of course, and the life preservers should have been replaced by new ones, but these things appear not to have occurred to the management of the boat in their fancied security. But there is another fact not to be overlooked. The manufacturers of that hose were as culpable as the managers of the steamer. There is no excuse for the turning out of such miserable imitations of good merchandise. Any defect in fire hose is apt to cause loss of life or property and every manufacturer who sends out untested hose is guilty of a despicable crime.

Prince Pu Lun, the Chinese emperor's nephew and personal representative, sailed for home yesterday after an extended visit to this country. During his stay here, the prince was the recipient of many honors, official and social. He met the president and the members of his official family, was introduced to scores of representative American citizens in all walks of life, saw the nation en fete at the world's fair, visited Niagara Falls as every good tourist should do, took an intelligent peep at some of our great manufacturing industries and, in more unconventional moments, even ventured a "flyer" on the horses and graced a fashionable wedding. Through it all he conducted himself as a well-bred gentleman. His keen interest in things foreign, his tact, his ready wit and his modesty have left behind an excellent impression—more than can be said of the visits of some other scions of royalty with vastly greater pretensions to modern civilization than the "heathen Chinee."

The assassination of Gen. Bobrikoff, governor general of Finland, may be considered a natural result of his tyrannical administration. It cannot be approved, for assassination under any circumstances is abhorrent to civilized peoples, but while the act is deplored it would be idle, if not mischievous, to ignore the causes leading up to it. The severity of Russian restrictions upon the Finlanders, in violation of promises made to them, has been the subject of discussion in this country and Europe for two years. The Finns have been emigrating to the United States as rapidly as possible and are forming colonies in various states. The immigrants include educated gentlemen whose properties have been confiscated, statesmen, authors and publicists, exiled for failure to acquiesce in Russian tyranny. The assassin of Gen. Bobrikoff, it may be assumed, was driven insane by brooding upon the wrongs his people have suffered. But Russia is quite as likely to increase the oppression as to learn wisdom and adopt a conciliatory policy.

More Japanese Victories.

Gen. Stakelberg's advance on the Liao-Tung peninsula with the apparent intent to relieve Port Arthur has been stopped in the latitude of Fuchan and after several days of severe fighting has been turned into a rout. Reliable advices tell that Stakelberg's left flank was turned, his retreat nearly cut off, his guns and much material captured. The Russians who were able to extricate themselves fled precipitately toward the north, though the Japanese took away many prisoners. Gen. Kuropatkin's official account of the action was interrupted in the middle of an interesting passage and no explanation has been given of the failure to complete it.

This action makes the Japanese complete masters of the peninsula and they may proceed as they please with the siege of Port Arthur. Gen. Oku's operations there are systematic, as all of the Japanese movements have been, and his lines are daily drawing tighter about the beleaguered fortress. He has mounted many heavy guns overlooking the Russian fortifications and is subjecting them to a bombardment that must be extremely trying to their nerves.

The sortie of the Vladivostok cruiser squadron into the Japan sea and the Korean straits has been as successful as its previous sortie, causing the loss of two or three Japanese transports, carrying troops and supplies. It is probable that was the only mission of Admiral Skrydloff, for if he had desired to make a juncture with the Port Arthur squadron he would not have alarmed all Japan and assured notice to Admiral Togo by stopping on the way to sink transports. The harrying of the Japanese transport service, on the other hand, indicates the intent of Gen. Kuropatkin to begin serious fighting and to stop the continuous forwarding of men and supplies from Japan. It appears, however, the far-sighted Japanese have used their time so well that they have landed in Manchuria sufficient men and supplies to carry on their campaign during the summer even if sea communication should be cut off.

It is reported that Admiral Skrydioff's Vladivostok fleet suffered considerable damage at the hands of Admiral Kamemura's squadron, though these are not confirmed. The passing of Kamemura's blockade is not wholly creditable to that Japanese commander, though it must be borne in mind that tremendous fogs afflict the Siberian port. St. Petersburg announces the return of the cruisers to port, which may or may not be true information.

Apparently Gen. Nozu's Third army which landed at or near Takushan, has extended its left to a junction with Gen. Oku's Second army on the peninsula, and it is probable some of his troops were engaged in the flanking operations against Gen. Stakelberg. The left wing of Gen. Kuroki's First army is in touch with Gen. Nozu's right, between Feng-Wang-Cheng and Sin-Yen, while his right rests upon the Liao-Yang-Mukden road, with its advanced column at Saimatze—also called Samaja—threatening Gen. Kuropatkin's left. There has been some advance of all of these forces during this week, marked by brisk outpost fighting and two or three smart engagements, all ending in occupation of the positions by the Japanese, who continue to have all the best of the argument. Russian reports have grown less frank than formerly and are almost wholly unreliable and the Russian authorities have grown more reticent, a pretty sure sign that they have little good news to tell and that they fear worse.

A Delayed Explanation.

Among the victims who perished in the Iroquois fire was Willis W. Cooper, a Methodist layman, distinguished for his munificence and for the prominent part which he had taken in Epworth league affairs. The fact that he was in a playhouse when death overtook him came as a decided surprise to many of his friends who were not aware that Mr. Cooper attended the theater. The incident was much commented upon by the religious press at the time. Soon after, when Mr. Cooper's will was made public, it was found that he had left a bequest of $50,000 to the missionary society of his denomination. That body, after some consideration, declined the gift, and the impression became general that the society's action was designed to show its disapproval of Mr. Cooper's indulgence in a form of amusement forbidden to members of his denomination by its discipline.

Methodist religious journals are now declaring that the circumstances surrounding Mr. Cooper's death did not figure in the question of his bequest; that the latter was conditioned on a six per cent annuity being paid his wife and children, and that this condition the missionary society could not agree to meet. The explanation is undoubtedly correct, though one cannot understand why it was not plainly set forth at the time Mr. Cooper's gift was rejected, and before an impression could gain publicity that not only unjustly reflected upon the memory of a good man, but also placed in no commendable light a great denomination.

That Usurpation.

The Philadelphia Ledger, usually sober and sensible, is having a fit over what it declares to be Governor Pennypacker's violation of the state constitution, and his usurpation of legislative authority. In its studies of constitutional law bearing upon this subject we commend to its attention the remark of the Federalist that "nations pay little regard to rules and maxims calculated in their very nature to run counter to the necessities of society; wise politicians will be cautious about fettering the government with restrictions that cannot be observed."

That provision of the state constitution about the calling of an extra session is, under present circumstances, an instance of this kind. Put in to cover the possibility of a vacancy occurring soon after a regular session, literal compliance is manifestly impossible in some cases. Suppose a vacancy should happen the day before the legislature met in regular session, would it then be possible to hold a session of the expiring legislature? Even the Ledger, notwithstanding its complete surrender to legal pedantry and its insistence upon the letter of the law, would hardly take that position. If there is a grain of discretion left to the governor in any case, could there be a better occasion for its exercise than on the present occasion?

The Ledger describes the governor's statement of the reasons which actuated him as "sophistical, pharisaical, evasive words." On the contrary they are the words of reason and good sense. Fortunately, this is a case in which any sensible man is competent to reach sound conclusions. To have convoked the expiring legislature in special session would have necessitated the holding of some 17 special elections to fill vacancies, and the session would have cost the state anywhere from $500,000 to $1,000,000, all to elect a senator for a month's service, whereupon the legislature will meet in regular session and will again elect a senator. From this embarrassing situation the Constitution of the United States provided a happy escape.

The governor's oath of office binds him to "support, obey and defend" the Constitution of the United States and the constitution of Pennsylvania. The Constitution of the United States is given precedence in the oath. The office of United States senator is created by the Constitution of the United States, and it provides for filling vacancies during the recess of the legislature by appointment. The Constitution and laws of the United States do not recognize any conditions or qualifications for the office of United States senator save what they themselves prescribe. Governor Pennypacker has complied with all these and safeguarded public interests by filling the vacancy by appointment.

When the Ledger's usual common sense comes to its rescue it will recognize the fact that the governor has met the emergency in the right way and is entitled to credit for his action. It admits that he has appointed "a man of unquestionable fitness." That is a solid fact that should cheer the Ledger, and as for the usurpation of legislative authority which it imagines, it must admit that at the most it is not a real but a technical and constructive usurpation, sanctioned by the respectable authority of the Constitution of the United States.

Religious Liberty in Japan.

The mikado, it is said, has written to the pope assuring him that wherever Japanese rule extends Catholic missionaries will be protected. This assurance is in keeping with the broadminded attitude of Japan's ruler toward Christian missionaries in all parts of his kingdom, and of every denomination. The Rev. George W. Fulton, a Presbyterian minister, writing under recent date from Kanazawa, Japan, says that the war, instead of developing a positively anti-Christian wave, in view of the fact that Japan is fighting a so-called Christian nation, has produced a result exactly opposite. Not in his 15 years of service in the island, he declares, has he seen such large audiences as now greet the missionaries. The government, he says, has sent to all the prefectures a warning against anti-Christian demonstrations, while the educational department has issued similar injunction in its field. Recently, he says, the military authorities have granted permission to the Evangelical Alliance to send 12 messengers to the front, much in the relation of army chaplains. Their expenses are to be borne by the national government, and they will be accorded the treatment of officers.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 16.—Of all the steamboats plying in these waters, none has been more familiar to New Yorkers than the General Slocum, which was destroyed by fire yesterday. There are thousands of persons in this city and in surrounding towns who could draw a picture of any part of the boat from memory. The decks, cabins, refreshment saloons—even certain camp stools and nooks protected from wind or sun on the decks—are remembered individually. For more than a decade the great steamer has been running between the North river and Rockaway Beach. Her going forth every morning in the summer, gay from bow to taffrail with fluttering flags and melodious with brass music has been an event of the day to numberless people who have watched her from the shores or ferryboats.

No one reckoned of her being an old tinderbox such as she proved to be. It was known by a few that she was of wood, and necessarily would burn quickly if ever she got fairly afire, but these few did not think the contingency worth serious consideration, while the large majority of those who got aboard the Slocum as a matter of course when they wanted to go to Rockaway on a hot summer day, neither knew nor cared whether she was of wood or steel, or whether she was as fireproof as a boat could be made or not. Her sister boat, the Grand Republic, is newer than the General Slocum and somewhat larger, but there was little choice between them in the opinion of most excursionists. If the Slocum happened to be the boat at hand, all right. She was as good as the Grand Republic. Some liked her better, because she seemed "more homelike." The Slocum was a homelike craft. Even when an immense crowd was aboard, it partook largely of the nature of a family party, simply because the boat herself carried a domestic atmosphere in some undefinable way. When decked out in holiday bravery, as was the case yesterday as she steamed up the East river before the flames burst forth, she did, indeed, "ride the waves a thing of beauty." There never was a handsomer steamer from the outside than the General Slocum.

Lighter Stage Costumes.

One of the comparatively new ideas of stage production is to dress the actors in lighter clothing in summer than in winter. In a musical show running in Broadway there is a large company, made up principally of chorus girls. Their gay costumes are of pretty good weight, so that they will set well. As the piece is likely to run until fall, at least, the management has ordered a duplicate outfit of costumes for the whole cast, in much lighter materials than those used at the beginning.

More Sleep Is Needed.

Doctors say that half of the ailments of New York children are the consequence of insufficient sleep. For that matter, many adults suffer also because they cannot, or do not sleep enough every 24 hours. The perpetual noise in the streets of the city, including the roar and rattle of "L" trains, murder sleep for many persons who would take eight hours' slumber every night, if they could get it undisturbed. One physician, in talking on this subject in general today, declared that St. Vitus' dance was becoming shockingly prevalent among New York children. He laid it altogether to the sufferers not getting enough sleep, although the cause generally ascribed is lack of nourishment. When asked what he would do to save the children, he answered:

"I would keep them in bed and give them plenty of sleep and tonics. I would make the youngsters go to bed with the chickens, and get up with them. In addition, I would see that they got two hours nap in the afternoon."

This advice is good in itself, but it is hard to imagine anyone getting two hours' sleep in the afternoon in any but the most favored quiet districts of this tumultuous city.

Prince Pu Lun Sails Away.

We said good-by to Prince Pu Lun today. With the unsmiling but courteous demeanor which distinguishes him, the Chinese commissioner, safe from a few days in St. Louis, sailed for Havre on the French liner Gascogne. He stood on the upper deck of the ship for several miles, after it pulled out into the stream, exchanging solemn farewells with a party of American and Chinese friends in C. R. Flint's fast yacht, Arrow, which accompanied the Gascogne nearly to Sandy Hook. The prince has made a good impression in this country, incidentally, it may be remarked, that by his own account, the United States has made a favorable impression on Pu Lun.

Greater Sale of Fireworks.

New York has less than half a dozen firms which make and sell fireworks. Among them they put out between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 worth of such goods each year. Only a comparatively small proportion of the total is ignited in this city, but men in the trade say that more fireworks have been bought for Greater New York consumption on the Fourth of July, and for campaign purposes later, than has been the case for many years. "Presidential year" is the reason given in two words.

New York is Turf Mad.

So large is this city, and so numerous are the circles of population which do not overlap each other, that interest in the Suburban overshadowed even the awful disaster on the East river, and more people are talking tonight about the result of the handicap than about the burning of the General Slocum. It was a beautiful day for an important race, and every means of carrying passengers was strained to its utmost capacity. The rush toward Sheepshead began early in the afternoon, continuing until the latest possible moment, when people could hope reasonably to reach the track in time to see the big event. More and more does it appear that much of New York is actually turf mad. There are many men who regard with suspicion a person who does not "play the races." They think there is something lacking in his mental makeup, to say nothing of his obviously being a sufferer from sporting aenemia.

Where Golf is Raging.

Golf rages at Rye today. This pretty spot on Long Island sound lends itself to sport of a gentle kind, being retired, well shaded and within an easy railroad ride of New York city. The Women's Metropolitan Golf association tournament is on and the shocks of long "drives" and fierce "punts," with an occasional "fozzle," jar the surrounding country and cause ripples on the smooth waters of the sound close by. It is a great game they have been playing at Rye, with a young school girl, whose significant patronymis is "Hurry," gaining most of the honors. Semi-finals will be played tomorrow.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

But words are things, and a small drop of ink,
Falling like dew upon a thought, produces
That which makes thousands, perhaps millions, think.
—Byron.

Were you disappointed when you saw the Anderson monument after the unveiling?

If not there were others who were, for it was not as great and as grand as they thought it would be.

But isn't that always, or nearly always, the case? Even Niagara falls are disappointing to nearly everyone upon seeing them for the first time.

The reason for this is that we picture things in our minds after reading or hearing about them, and our pictures are so exaggerated, as a rule, that when we come to see the real thing it falls short of our expectations.

Nearly all the pictures of Niagara falls give the beholder the feeling that he is looking from below upward, but when he gets there and looks down upon the cascade from the high banks or bridge he naturally experiences a keen sense of disappointment.

But after descending to the level of the river, and viewing the falls from different points, the feeling of disappointment disappears and the grandeur of the scene soon brings a sense of satisfaction.

* * * * *

Many of those who came to see the unveiling of the Anderson monument were disappointed because the monument itself is not as big as the Carnegie library.

Some of these disappointed ones remained to look the gift over more carefully, and the more carefully and critically they examined it the more reconciled they became, and finally went away satisfied that the monument will do.

And the more they think it over, and the more carefully they study the scheme, and the more critically they examine the workmanship, the more thoroughly will they become convinced that the monument will do.

The bust of Col. Anderson is life-size, and those who knew him well say it shows a true copy of the face and gives a correct impression of the man.

What more can be asked of an artist than correctly to portray the subject given him to perpetuate in marble or bronze?

At first glance the figure representing labor may not impress some as being a thing of beauty, but after looking it over, and recalling the scenes about a forge at the noon hour, noting the correctness in the matter of tools, dress, pose and expression, all must conclude that the monument will do, and do very well.

* * * * *

That which satisfies at a glance rarely satisfies for long.

It is the meaning in a poem that gives it real value, and not the jingle and aptness of its rhymes. Indeed, rhyme and jingle are quite unimportant as compared with rhythm and meaning.

Monuments erected to the memory of men or events are practically poems, and are as dependent upon rhythm and meaning for their value as are written poems or memorial orations.

The rhyme trickster and the word-jungling orator may catch the common ear for the moment, but they are soon forgotten, and their subjects are not longer remembered for their efforts.

Only that endures which is true, and is worth while, be it ever so pretentious or brilliant.

This is shown forth in the works of the old masters of painting, literature and philosophy.

Although a painting by one of the old masters is not nearly as bright and fresh looking as a modern work, still there is something, a particular something, that gives it a mastering influence over those who stop long enough to become acquainted with it.

What is that something?

It is the soul of the painter.

* * * * *

It is never safe to condemn a man at first sight, unless it is plain to be seen that he is a moral pervert. You may have among your most admired friends those with whom you were not favorably impressed on first acquaintance.

And you may have discovered that among those who impressed you most favorably at first were some whose friendship was not worth having, and whose acquaintance was no particular credit to you.

And haven't you been surprised upon looking into an old poem, one written before the dawn of civilization, as we understand it, to find therein so many pertinent truths so aptly expressed? And as you read along have you not been led to conclude there is something wonderful, even powerful, about the poem?

What is that something?

It is the soul of the writer.

He had so written himself into the lines that he continues to live in them, and that means that he was true, and that he wrote that which was true, for only that which is true shall endure.

* * * * *

If, perchance, the Anderson monument does not come up to your expectations, don't be in a hurry to condemn it, for you may think better of it a year hence. Indeed, your feelings may change very materially in the course of a few weeks, or months, at most.

Anyhow, you should not express yourself too pointedly and postitively one way or another until you have studied the design and workmanship with due care.

A better way, if it does not come up to your ideal, is to first outline one that would be more appropriate, thus showing where the designer and modeler were wrong. After doing this you may venture to call attention to mistakes and defects in their work.

None have the right to pick flaws and to find fault with any work of art unless they can suggest improvements, or point out wherein it might have been rendered more truthful and more artistic.

You may dislike a thing without knowing just why, or for no other reason than that you have no taste for that particular style of art, but that will not justify you in saying it is bad, or inartistic.

Everyone does not like honey.

* * * * *

Altogether the Anderson monument is quite satisfactory, even more so than it was yesterday, and it will be more so tomorrow than it is today, and so on indefinitely.

In very truth it was not erected exclusively for today, nor for the generation that knew Col. Anderson, nor for the one that knows Andrew Carnegie, but for generations that could know neither of them personally.

Those who knew Col. Anderson, or who know Mr. Carnegie, do not need monuments to remind them that they lived and moved and had their being here.

Later generations know Col. Anderson only by the library he left to the schools in Allegheny, which was in his day only a thrifty, growing town. His fondest dreams could scarcely have pictured the splendid city it now is, much less the scenes of yesterday in which he was so kindly remembered and highly honored.

Coming generations will be reminded of him by this monument of enduring marble and imperishable bronze. Thus will he continue his noble work of encouraging the young to read and to study in order to fit themselves to earn distinction and to win fame, as have those who gave earnest heed to him in times past.

Inside History

THE STROLLER.

To every newspaper interview there is an outside and an inside. The public sees only the more or less formal exterior, but in the private gallery of notables which every newspaper man of long reportorial experience carries in memory, are hung sketches from life, which, should they be reproduced for general gaze, would unquestionably make a more interesting exhibit than the conventional things done into print. As a matter of fact, the purpose of the ordinary newspaper interview is not to make a sketch but to get talk. When the possibilities of airships are under discussion and Santos-Dumont comes to town, the reporter is commissioned to find out what the aeronaut knows, believes and prophesies about flying machines, rather than how he looks, what he eats, drinks and wears, and whether he has a wife and family. Frequently, indeed, a little personal sketch is thrown into the interview to liven it up, while certain journals of ultra-bilious hue even go so far as to insist that the "human interest" feature, as they term it, shall dog the subject of their attention even to the way in which he throws one leg over the other, or the manner he has of thrusting his hands into his pockets.

But it is not such little characteristics or idiosyncrasies that go to make up the reporter's private collection. Oftentimes his experience with the person he is sent to interview assumes such an intimate form that to publish every incident would be either to violate that principle of newspaper ethics which forbids the injection of reportorial egotism into an interview, or to betray confidence. Then again the subject of an interview may turn toward the reporter an aspect of character repulsive, contemptible and utterly at variance with his reputation before the public. To print this side of the picture and thus abuse the public of its unwarranted and unworthy estimate would, in truth, be highly interesting, satisfactory, just and—libelous. Solely for this last reason, therefore, the reporter must keep locked up in his bosom the sketch which few besides himself have seen, and may put into type only that non-committal thing whose bald preface is that "Mr. Pecksniff says."

On the other hand, and such instances are not rare, the prohibition against printing certain incidents connected with an interview has nothing to do with libel, with breach of confidence, or with newspaper ethics, but arises solely from circumstances reflecting upon the reporter himself—circumstances which he wouldn't see in print for worlds. Of such character was an interview which once fell to the lot of a "cub" on the staff of a Duluth paper. A party composed of a score of millionaires had come to the Zenith City to inspect the Mesaba iron range properties, among them Phil Armour and George M. Pullman. At this time, also, certain disturbances had arisen among the residents of the model city of Pullman, Ill., due, it was said, to the unjust demands and attitude of its palace car founder and proprietor. The "cub" therefore, was sent out with imperative orders to "interview Pullman." It was his first real big assignment and he was thirsting with a desire to cover himself with glory and his rivals with a "scoop." He hurried over to the hotel where the party had gathered preparatory to taking a train within an hour, and breathlessly dashing up to a benignant-looking gentleman, who, it afterward turned out was the president of a southern railroad, and the practical joker of the crowd, inquired if he could point out Mr. Pullman to him.

"Would you know him if you saw him?" inquired the gentleman.

The "cub" shamefacedly admitted that he would not.

The joker's eyes began to twinkle, but he affected an air of solicitude as he carefully scanned the lobby.

"Umph!" he grunted, "he was here just a minute ago with Mr. Armour. Suppose you would know Armour, wouldn't you?"

Again the poor "cub" was obliged to confess his ignorance.

"Well, that's too bad," murmured the gentleman, "because where you found one you'd be likely to find the other. No, by jove!" he exclaimed suddenly, pointing to a stout gentleman with florid countenance and flowing side-whiskers, who was just passing out of the door, "there goes Pullman now! Run and you'll catch him!"

The "cub" needed no urging. Down the lobby he sped, through the heavy revolving door and out upon the sidewalk where he saw his quarry going at a brisk pace. To catch up with him was but an instant's work. Pantingly, the "cub," note book and pencil in hand, blurted out:

"This is Mr. Pullman, I believe."

The gentleman with the distinguished-looking mutton-chop whiskers halted abruptly, took in the situation at a glance and then, with a gleam of humor in his eyes, said with dignified reserve:

"Well, sir; and suppose I am Mr. Pullman?"

"My paper has sent me to get an interview with you concerning the labor troubles at Pullman," replied the "cub" appealingly.

"Supposing I am Mr. Pullman, what questions would you like to ask of him?" condescended the magnate.

The "cub's" heart leaped with joy. This was really better than he had dared hope for! Such shrewd tact, too, as the palace car king showed in refusing openly to avow his identity. But he had his man just the same, and now the "cub" poured out his eager questions, to each of which his subject replied with slow and cautious preface:

"Well, now, if I were Mr. Pullman I believe I should say that—" etc.

When the "cub" had used up about all the paper he had, and positively could not think of another question, he drew a big sigh of relief and, thanking his informant effusively for his "courtesy and patience," remarked that he must be going.

"Mind," said the florid-faced gentleman as he frowned and shook his finger at the reporter with mock threat, "you are not to say that I did say I am Mr. Pullman."

Back to the office dashed the "cub" exultantly, with his precious notes. The "story" he turned in to the city editor an hour later caused that person's eyes to open.

"You don't mean to say that Pullman gave you all this?" he queried suspiciously as he again ran his eye over the "copy" that would make at least a two-column article in print.

"Every line of it," chortled the radiant-faced "cub," with a short, prideful laugh. He had written a straightforward story, with no allusion to the fact that Mr. Pullman had evidently sought to cast doubt upon his identity.

"That'll do," said the city editor curtly. Five minutes later he was showing the story to the managing editor, with the comment that there was certainly good stuff in the "cub" and that he deserved a raise.

The story was printed, and mighty good reading it made, too. The following evening, however, the managing editor received a note. It ran about as follows:

"Dear Sir:—Permit me to compliment you upon the very capable young man in your employ, who wrote up an interview which he had with me yesterday on the supposition that I was Mr. Pullman. I did not assure him; in fact I warned him at parting not to say that he had interviewed Mr. Pullman. To the questions which he put to me I simply replied that if I were Mr. Pullman I should probably reply so and so. Despite his mistake in identity, he is to be complimented upon the accuracy with which he has reported the conversation that took place between us. Yours, very truly,
"PHIL D. ARMOUR."

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Irwin of Irwin station, and was named for John Irwin, his grandfather, the founder of that town. He was a brother of Mrs. C. P. Creeseman, wife of the pastor of the Highland Presbyterian church, and a nephew of J. M. Guffey. Mr. Irwin was a trustee of the First Presbyterian church of Morrellville, and a select councilman of the town. When he was 21 years of age he went west, where he resided on a ranch in New Mexico for 12 years. Eight years ago he was married to Charlotte Henry of Salina, Kan., who survives him. The funeral will take place today at 2 o'clock from his parents' home in Irwin and the interment will be made in the cemetery there.

Allan Strathern, aged 53, a prominent business man of Turtle Creek, and for many years a resident of Braddock, died on Tuesday at Louisville, Col., where he went several weeks ago in the hope of recovering his health. The remains will be taken to Braddock for interment. He was born in Pittsburgh and moved with his parents to Braddock in 1859. He resided at Braddock 30 years before moving to Patton township, where he was postmaster for one term at Linhart, now a part of Turtle Creek. Mr. Strathern for several years conducted a general store in Larimer avenue, Turtle Creek. He was a charter member of the First Christian church, Turtle Creek, and is survived by a widow, four daughters and two sons. One brother, Newton Strathern of Braddock, also survives.

As dean of the faculty of Northwestern university, as a professor in Rush Medical college and as one of the staff of Mercy hospital, Chicago, for 40 years, Dr. Davis had a career of remarkable activity and success augmented by the high respect which he commanded, aside from his work as a physician. His best-known writings were in regard to the physiological effects of alcohol.

PERSONALS

The Hon. Nathaniel Ewing of Uniontown was in Pittsburgh yesterday on his way home from Princeton, where he went to attend the commencement exercises Wednesday. Judge Ewing was elected an alumni trustee for three years, he being the unanimous choice of the Princeton Club of Western Pennsylvania. He was a member of the graduating class of '69, and his election at this time was particularly happy, as he was at Princeton celebrating his 35th class reunion. He participated as a trustee in the commencement exercises. His son, William Ewing, was one of this year's Princeton "grads."

Daniel R. Hanna, son of the late Senator Marcus A. Hanna, passed through the city last evening on his way to New York. Mr. Hanna, when seen at the Union station, said that the strike of the masters and pilots was broken and that considerable coal was being transported. This fact, he said, was stimulating business, not only in Cleveland, but in all places where lake coal is handled. He does not expect much coal to be taken across the lakes this season. He said the demand for the product is less than former seasons, but he attributes this to a falling off in various kinds of business, particularly steel and iron. The indications are that next summer will be a record-breaker. He refused to discuss politics other than to hope the Republicans carry the election.

Robert K. Cockran, secretary of the Master Builders' association and councilman of Allegheny, will leave this morning to attend the national Republican convention.

George Westinghouse and a party of friends left last night for Philadelphia in his private car, Glen Eyre. The car was attached to the 10 o'clock train.

T. P. Baglin of the Chicago Marble Contractors' association spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business. He said Chicago is about free from trouble with organized labor.

George Martin, general superintendent of the Westmoreland Coal Company, passed through the city last night over the Pennsylvania railroad on his way to St. Louis on a pleasure trip. He said: "Our mines are running full time. During the winter months our works were operated very little. We had few orders for eastern shipments. Since the lake carriers commenced transporting coal the mines have run steady."

Mayor W. H. Walker of Bellefonte, Pa., spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business. He said that business in his home town is picking up.

Frank L. Fox of Saegerstown, Pa., proprietor of the Saegerstown inn, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business. He registered at the Lincoln.

John Hamilton, ex-state secretary of agriculture, arrived from his home in State College, Pa., yesterday morning. He left last night for St. Louis to visit the world's fair.

KNOX MUST SIT BACK IN SENATE

Will Be Obliged to Wait Until Good Seat Is Vacant on the Republican Side.

PENROSE GETS QUAY'S DESK

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16.

Although Philander C. Knox of Pittsburgh will enter the United States senate with the reputation of an able statesman and the prestige of one of the most successful administrations of the department of justice in the history of the government, yet when he takes the oath of office he will be obliged to conform to the rules regarding the choice of seats, and he will be located away over on the Democratic side of the senate chamber, in what is known as Cherokee strip.

It is one of the immutable rules of the senate that newcomers in that body must take the best seats available, which are usually the most undesirable in the chamber. No exceptions are made to this rule. Mr. Knox will be assigned to the seat formerly occupied by Senator Allee of Delaware, being No. 42 on the end of the next to the last row. Senator Dick of Ohio is the only Republican who fares worse than Mr. Knox, as he will retain the seat he now has on the end of the last row. As changes occur in the membership of the senate, both Senator Knox and Senator Dick will eventually secure seats among the brethren of their political faith and in a more desirable location. But they must wait and take their chances.

Penrose Gets Quay's Seat.

Senator Quay's seat, which was the third one from the end on the Republican side, in the front row, will be occupied by Senator Penrose, who had the end seat in that row, and merely moves up two places. The seat that Senator Quay had was formerly occupied by Senator Don Cameron. Mr. Allee of Delaware, although but a short time a member of the senate, filed a claim on Senator Penrose's seat and got it.

When a senator wishes to get a better seat, he looks about, and finding a possible vacancy, files with the assistant sergeant-of-arms a claim for that seat as soon as it is vacant. This claim is entered in a book, with the date it is filed, and the senator gets the first chance at it. Senators watch the politics in the states of their colleagues for indications of a vacancy, and even study the physical condition of the older members.

If an aged statesman develops a bad cough, there is likely to be several applications filed for his seat, in the event that it becomes vacant. Senator Beveridge got Senator Hanna's seat and escaped from the Cherokee strip by making a prompt claim on it soon after Mr. Hanna was taken ill. Senator Fairbanks, who has a seat in the front row on the Republican side, one of the best in the chamber, had only a second mortgage on it.

Knox to Use Quay's Room.

Senator Chandler formerly sat there, and when it was pretty certain that he would not come back, another senator filed a claim on it and Mr. Fairbanks got a second mortgage. But by the shifting of the political changes the first claimant also failed to come back to the senate, and Mr. Fairbanks got the seat.

Col. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms, has given Mr. Knox authorty to use the committee room occupied by the late Senator Quay during the recess of congress. When congress meets the committee vacancies caused by Senator Quay's death will no doubt be filled, and the senator who succeeds Mr. Quay as chairman of the committee on organization, conduct and expenditures of the executive departments will get the committee room he had. Mr. Knox will doubtless be obliged to take a room in the Maltby building in B street until the new senate office building is completed, which will be about three years. During the summer months Senator Knox will have clerks at work at the capitol.

L. W. STRAYER.

To Insure Legality of Bonds.

The finance committee will be called next week to take action on the amendment to the judgment bond issue, introduced at the last meeting of councils. The amendments are of a technical nature, tending to insure the legality of the bonds when issued.

BOBRIKOFF SHOT BY YOUNG FINN

Governor General of Finland Mortally Wounded on Senate Steps at Helsengfors.

COUNTRY WILL LOSE BY ACT

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 16.—General Count Bobrikoff, the Russian governor general of Finland, was shot in the stomach and neck and mortally wounded by a university student named Schaumann at the entrance to the Finnish senate at Helsingfors at 11 o'clock this morning. The general was taken at once to a hospital at Helsingfors and his death is expected at any time.

Three shots were fired, two of which caused slight wounds in the neck and chest. The third bullet penetrated the abdomen and necessitated a serious operation, which was successfully performed after the sacrament had been administered to Gen. Bobrikoff. The bullet was extracted and a portion of the intestines removed.

The assassin is a son of Senator Schaumann, and, while little is known here concerning his motives, the authorities entertain little doubt that it grew out of opposition to the policy of the Russification of Finland. Schaumann is believed to be a member of what is known as the Finnish Patriotic society.

The question of the convocation of the diet, which is regarded as one of the most vital institutions of Finnish national life and which has not been convoked for over a year, aroused much feeling. Gen. Bobrikoff was at first opposed to the convocation of the diet, but, on account of the recent improvement in the situation in Finland, especially since the outbreak of the war, and because of the resolutions of loyalty to the emperor and approving the conduct of the war which was passed by the senate, the governor general had decided to recommend that the diet should be allowed to meet. The question was to have been definitely settled by his majesty on June 23.

An Official Statement.

The following statement has been authoritatively made:

"In view of the attempt on the life of Governor General Bobrikoff, the decision of the emperor will probably be against the convocation of the diet, so that the people of Finland as well as the governor general shall be compelled to suffer instead of benefit by Schaumann's crime.

"Gen. Bobrikoff as administrator was naturally unpopular with that portion of the population which opposed the policy of Russification. He was personally haughty and austere and ruled firmly but justly. The malcontents in Finland comprise hardly one-seventh of the population and are made up mostly of Swedes. The mass of the Finns themselves are content, as they understand the purpose of the measures taken for the unification of the empire, but some of the Finnish papers have been extremely hostile in their attitude and the indignities sometimes offered to the Russian officers necessitated whatever repressive measures Gen. Bobrikoff may have been compelled to employ.

"Of late a better disposition has been manifested toward Gen. Bobrikoff and the Russian administration, owing to a better understanding and to the knowledge that the governor general favored a meeting of the diet.

Second Serious Crime.

"Last December an attempt was made upon the life of the chief of police at Helsingsfors, and, therefore, this is the second act of violence within six months."

Schaumann was a university student and a member of the Nationalist party. His father two years ago protested in the senate against the policy of the Russian government in Finland.

Gen. Count Bobrikoff, who was appointed governor general of Finland in 1899, made himself very unpopular by his severe measures against the press of Finland and the stern manner in which he followed out the policy of Russia toward the Finns. This led to serious rioting at Helsingsfors in 1902, which was suppressed by Cossacks.

The last recorded act of Gen. Bobrikoff was in March of this year, when he issued a proclamation forbidding the people to darken their windows at "unusual hours." People who chose to go to bed before 10 o'clock at night were subject to heavy fines. This step was due to the neglect of the Finns to illuminate their houses in honor of the beginning of the war with Japan.

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—G. A. Bobrik of Los Angeles is a nephew of Gen. Bobrikoff, the Russian governor general of Finland, who was shot today. Mr. Bobrik is credited with having prophesied in a recent address before the University club of this city that his uncle's autocratic administration of Finnish affairs would result in his violent death.

The company will be represented by I. W. Jenks and the district managers of the hoop mills and the Amalgamated association by the same committee which met the independent manufacturers at Cambridge Springs.

Men's League Is to Meet.

A meeting of the men's league of the Eleventh United Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors on the evening of June 21. Besides a social time there will be business and music and refreshments.

MOYER ACCUSED OF TWO MURDERS

Head of Western Federation of Miners Must Go to Cripple Creek.

OVERRIDES COURT SUMMONS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CRIPPLE CREEK, COL., June 16.—Assistant District Attorney S. D. Crump today wired Sheriff Rutan at Telluride to hold Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, until K. C. Sterling, a secret service agent of the Mine Owners' association, can bring him to Cripple Creek. Sterling left this afternoon for Telluride.

Moyer will be brought here on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Patrick charging him with aiding and abetting the murder of Charles McCormack and Melvin Beck, who were blown up in the Vindicator by an infernal machine explosion November 1, 1903.

The warrant implicates Charles G. Kennison, former president of miners' union No. 40, who was arrested in Denver last Monday; Sherman Parker, Stephen Adams, W. B. Easterly and a number of others not yet under arrest.

Determined to bring to justice, if possible, every person implicated in the Independence dynamite explosion, the county commissioners have appropriated $10,000 for the services of a special prosecutor and to furnish any other assistance necessary. Samuel D. Crump, attorney for the Mine Owners' association, has been engaged as special prosecutor.

Quiet at Cripple Creek.

The situation in the district is quiet. Deportations are now being made on the regular trains, and of these persons it is required only to get out of Teller county.

TELLURIDE, COL., June 16.—Charles H. Moyer, president of te Western Federation of Miners, who was surrendered to Sheriff Rutan by Capt. Bulkeley Wells, military commander in San Miguel county, yesterday after Judge Thayer at St. Louis had granted a writ of habeas corpus for him, is now held as a prisoner in the county jail on the charge of desecrating the flag. He said today that the federation would provide a bond for him and he would probably be released in a few days. Pursuant to an order from Gov. Peabody, all troops were withdrawn from San Miguel county today.

DENVER, June 16.—Ex-Gov. Charles S. Thomas, it is announced, is preparing papers in behalf of James F. Burns, president and manager of the Portland mine, in a damage suit which Burns will bring against Gov. James H. Peabody, Adjt.-Gen. Sherman M. Bell and the state of Colorado for $100,000 for the closing of the Portland mine by the military.

Moyer to Sue Governor.

Attorneys Richardson and Hawkins, acting for Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, are drafting papers in a suit for $50,000 damages which Moyer is to file against Gov. Peabody, Adjt.-Gen. Bell and the state of Colorado.

Moyer's action is based on a charge of false and illegal imprisonment by the military authorities acting under the proclamation of martial law in San Miguel county. Referring to the order of Judge Amos M. Thayer for the production of Moyer before the United States circuit court of appeals at St. Louis on July 5, Gov. Peabody said today:

I shall certainly answer the order of Judge Thayer. The form of the answer I have left to Attorney General Miller. Whether it will necessitate my appearance in person I do not know. My opinion is, however, that when the court is advised of the fact that before I had any knowledge of the existence of the procedure in the United States court I had turned Moyer over to the civil authorities, the judge will accept my answer as fully covering all legal requirements and ending the proceedings. Should the court hold otherwise, of course as a law-abiding citizen, I shall follow such directions as the court may give.

BRENNAN NOT GUILTY.

Jury Acquits Braddock Man of Killing Thomas Darby During a Fight.

The jury in the case of James Brennan, charged with manslaughter for the death of Thomas Darby at Braddock on February 9 last, returned a verdict of not guilty in criminal court yesterday. The jury retired when court adjourned on Wednesday evening and were out all night. Brennan's trial lasted three days and attracted a great deal of attention, as both the defendant and deceased were prominent men.

The killing was the result of a fight between the men, in which Darby's right arm was cut with a paper scratcher, which severed an artery. The defense claimed it was an accident and the prosecution claimed the wound was made by Brennan, who took the knife from Darby's pocket and stabbed him.

LATER IS ACQUITTED.

Found Not Guilty of Throwing the Beer Keg Which Killed Stanley Brostosky.

Lawrence Later was acquitted of the murder of Stanley Brostosky at Sygan, near Bridgeville, on January 1, this year.

The case was tried at the March term of court and Later was convicted of manslaughter. A new trial was granted.

Later was charged with killing Brostosky by striking him in the stomach with a beer keg during a New Year's celebration. Death was caused by hemorrhages. The defense claimed that Later did not throw the keg. The jury retired about 4 o'clock. The court remained in session until 6 o'clock, when the verdict was returned.

LARKIN SENT LETTERS REGARDING PAYROLLS

Wanted Law Obeyed, and That Caused Health Bureau to Criticise.

Controller Larkin does not think the criticisms of him uttered by officials of the bureau of health are justifiable, and yesterday he gave out some correspondence he had with the bureau. He asserts that this correspondence does not bear out the charge that by his policy he is inviting another smallpox epidemic.

The correspondence shows that the controller complained to the director of the department of public safety that men are on the payroll as nurses and quarantine guards, yet the records of smallpox cases showed that not nearly so many nurses and guards are necessary. He called the director's attention to the fact that the number of sanitary policemen is specified in an ordinance.

Director Moore admitted yesterday that nurses and quarantine guards, more than are apparently necessary, are on the payroll, but he asserted that these persons, while perhaps not acting as nurses and guards, are doing other work of the city, and that it is necessary to have them on hand in case of a smallpox epidemic. To this the controller yesterday responded by saying that if, as Director Moore says, the expenses for fighting smallpox should come from a special fund, then it is not right that nurses and quarantine guards doing other duty should be allowed to deplete the smallpox fund by being paid out of it for doing general work for the bureau of health.

The bureau of health, the controller also said, had specified vaccination as a preventative of smallpox, and he showed that enough money had been spent for vaccine virus to vaccinate 395,000 persons. As the population of the city is only 340,000, evidently every man, woman and child has been vaccinated, and is, therefore, secure from the disease, the controller says. His admonitions, he continues, seem to have stirred up all the talk about a smallpox epidemic, and yet he only asked the director of the department of public safety to obey the city ordinances, employ no more than the ordinances allow and to pay employes only for the specific duties of their official position.

GRADUATE AND HONORARY DEGREES FROM THE WESTERN UNIVERSITY

Received by Students and Distinguished Men at Commencement Exercises.

NEW CHANCELLOR GIVES TALK

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Black McCormick, the new chancellor of the Western University, appeared for the first time last night in that capacity before a Pittsburgh audience. It was the occasion of the commencement exercises of the collegiate, law and engineering departments of the university in Carnegie Music hall. Prof. McCormick took no official part in the exercises, except to make a brief speech near the close of the proceedings.

The participants in the exercises were in three groups on the stage, and even the notable guests wore the college cap and gown. The exercises were especially prominent because of the conferring of several honorary degrees upon distinguished men, the attorney general of the state, Hampton L. Carson, receiving one in addition to the large number he already possesses. The awarding of the honorary degrees and those bestowed upon the graduates of the institution was done with considerable ceremony by Acting Chancellor Daniel Carhart. Each recipient was ushered to the center of the stage, where, with his back to the audience, the hood emblematic of the degree was hung upon him, the colored facing being prominently exposed.

The invocation was made by the Rev. Dr. John Crockar White, and William H. Lacey delivered the salutatory. The attorney general made the speech of the evening. The conferring of the degrees followed.

Dr. James H. McClelland of Pittsburgh and Frank Hurbut Chittenden of the United States department of agriculture received the degree of doctor of science. The Rev. Frank Fish, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Claysville, and the Rev. Andrew D. Heffern, professor of biblical learning of the divinity school of the Episcopal church in Philadelphia, were made doctors of divinity. Judge John D. Shafer introduced Mr. Carson as an LL.B., M. A. and LL. D., and another degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him.

The following is a list of the graduates and the degrees they received:

Bachelor of Arts—John Coleman, Clyde Eben McConnell Copeland, William Hart Lacey.

Bachelor of Science—William Darke Brown, Alfred Joseph Buka, Anna Florence Carhart, John Sharpless Edwards, Thomas Edwin Hewitt, Thomas Frank McClester, Byron Bird Stroud, Herbert Woelfel, Paul Duffield Wright.

Robert Snowden, Who Shot His Wife, Found Dead—Other Violent Deaths.

Robert Snowden, colored, of Mifflin township, who shot and killed his wife, Louise, Tuesday night, committed suicide by shooting himself sometime after that tragedy and his body was found yesterday in a clump of bushes near his home. It is supposed that Snowden hid himself after wounding his wife until he learned the nature of her injuries. On hearing of her death he ended his life. Snowden and his wife frequently quarrelled. Snowden was jealous of her attentions to others. He made several threats he would kill her and then take his life. When his body was found yesterday there was a small bottle of carbolic acid in his coat pocket.

TRYING TO DODGE HEARST INSTRUCTIONS

CHICAGO, June 16.—Mayor Carter H. Harrison and his political managers today decided to contest before the Democratic national convention five of the Chicago districts. The mayor had legal advice that in the event of the ten delegates, including himself, being seated as delegates, they will not be bound by the Hearst instructions adopted by the Democratic state convention.

losses are awaited with the keenest interest. The war office declines to accept the Japanese figures unreservedly, although the officials frankly admit that they believe the Russian casualties were severe.

Emperor Nicholas has received the following telegram dated June 16, from Gen. Kuropatkin:

"I have received the following dispatch from Lieut.-Gen. Baron Stakelberg, dated June 16, 1:20 a. m.:

Defeat Reported.

"'Yesterday I had intended to attack the enemy's right flank, but just as our troops had been assigned for the purpose and were beginning to successfully envelop my right flank with superior forces, I was compelled to retreat by three roads to the north.

"'Our losses are heavy, but they are not yet completely known. During the engagement the Third and Fourth batteries of the First artillery brigade were literally cut to pieces by the Japanese shells.

"'Of 16 guns, 13 were rendered completely useless and were abandoned.

"'The conduct of the troops was excellent, a large proportion of them refusing to retire until after they had been repeatedly ordered to do so.'"

A dispatch from Gen. Kuropatkin, dated June 15, which for some unaccountable reason is incomplete, was received prior to the report from Gen. Stakelberg. The dispatch is as follows:

Story from Kuropatkin.

"An engagement occurred June 14 at Wafandien, north of Port Arthur, with a Japanese force numbering at least two divisions. Our losses in killed include Col. Khoastonnow, commanding the First regiment of Eastern Siberian rifles of your majesty and Second Lieut. Gragoslaff Nadochinsky, adjutant of the regiment. The wounded include Maj.-Gen. Gerngross, who remained in the field, and Capt. Krintsky of the general staff.

"Twenty officers, whose names at present are unknown, were also killed or wounded, besides 311 soldiers, of which the First regiment of Siberian rifles lost 12 officers and 200 men and the First brigade of artillery six officers and 50 men.

"The following night was quiet until 2 in the morning, when a fusillade began on our right flank, along the line of our outposts. The firing soon slackened. At 5:30 in the morning the Japanese artillery opened on our left flank. Shortly before this our cavalry discovered on our right flank the presence southward of Tafanchou of a considerable force of the enemy. The Japanese infantry opened fire on our cavalry occupying the heights between Tafan-chou and Lan-chou on the edge of a wood.

Fight in Early Morning.

"Towards 6:30 the enemy, consisting of a regiment of infantry with artillery, attacked from those woods. At the same time the cannonading on our left flank became heavier. At 6:30 Gen. Baron Stakelberg passed with part of his force to the attack, turning the right flank of the enemy towards Wafandien and Hun-Chou and directing the other part of his force against the enemy's front.

"Towards 10 in the morning the enemy sent a brigade of infantry, cavalry and a battery of artillery against our right flank, and having repulsed our detachments of cavalry, proceeded through Hun-Chou, turning the right flank of our position.

"Gen. Stakelberg at 10:30 in the evening advanced his reserves to check this movement. According to information received the enemy during the morning of June 15 brought up considerable reinforcements, and as the main Japanese force consists of upward of three divisions—" The dispatch breaks off at this point.

TOKYO, June 16.—The transports Hitachi and Sado have been sunk by the Russians. Three hundred and ninety-seven survivors of the Hitachi have arrived at Moji and 153 survivors of the Sado have arrived at Kokura. The full extent of the casualties are not obtainable.

The two transports carried only 1,400 men. If this is true the loss in lives is probably less than 900. The transports, however, had many horses and large quantities of supplies on board.

Details obtained from the survivors of the ill-fated Japanese transports show that the Hitachi and the Sado met three Russian warships near Iki island at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The Russians fired on the Japanese ships and stopped them and soon afterward they torpedoed and sank the helpless transports. The captain of the Sado and several other men were captured. More than 100 men escaped in the boats and landed at Kirura.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 16.—The Vladivostok squadron has returned to Vladivostok. It is now understood that Vice Admiral Skrydloff did not accompany the squadron which put to sea under Vice Admiral Bezobrazoff, who directly commands the Vladivostok station.

GEN. CORBIN ORDERED TO PHILIPPINE COMMAND

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Maj.-Gen. Henry C. Corbin has been ordered to command the division of the Philippines, succeeding Maj.-Gen. J. F. Wade, the order to take effect in October. Gen. Corbin at present commands the division of the Atlantic and department of the east, with headquarters at Governor's island, New York. He will have had about a year and a half of service in the Philippines when Lieut.-Gen. Chaffee reaches the retiring age. It is expected that Maj.-Gen. Corbin will then succeed Gen. Chaffee as lieutenant-general.

headway. It was his opinion that if Fairbanks wants the place, would say so and show a little activity, it would go to him without a contest.

Philipines Get Two Votes.

Mr. Penrose declined to discuss the national chairmanship matter. His secretary, Col. W. R. Andrews, with a corps of stenographers, arrived tonight from Washington and are with the senator at the Annex.

The national committee today decided to give the Philippine islands a representation in the convention. Two delegates with the right to vote will be seated, thus putting the Philippines on a par with Porto Rico, which will have two voting representatives. Gen. Charles R. Miller of Franklin, Pa., called on Senator Penrose this evening. Gen. Miller, although not a delegate, is much interested in the political outlook.

An informal meeting of a majority of the members of the Republican national committee was held last night in the rooms of one of the committeemen at the Auditorium Annex. The object of the meeting was to discuss the availability of Secretary George B. Cortelyou for the national chairmanship. This was not an extended discussion for the reason that the members appeared to entertain the same opinion upon this matter. This opinion was outlined in these dispatches to The Gazette last night. It is in effect that Mr. Cortelyou does not measure up so far as political experience goes to the requirements necessary to lead the party to victory next November.

Still for Cortelyou.

Upon reliable authority I am informed that President Roosevelt has received the conclusions reached by those who attended last night's meeting. It is further stated that the president stands pat. He is said to have communicated to the committee the fact that he is still for Cortelyou, and that his views upon this matter be further amplified for the benefit of the committee upon the arrival of Senator Lodge. This looks like a deadlock.

It is one, however, in which the president possesses superior advantages. Precedents and party traditions give to him the privilege of selecting the national campaign manager. It is claimed that it is within the power of the committee—not the present committee, but the one which will succeed it—to establish a new precedent by electing the national chairman. Such a course might appear revolutionary, but it is within the scope of possibility should the present committee be re-elected and not in the meantime change its attitude in reference to Mr. Cortelyou.

While the national committeemen are most energetic in their opposition to the president's selection of Mr. Cortelyou, they, for obvious reasons, are not permitting the use of their names in an expression of their individual opinion. Although this is the situation, it can be said that New York, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri and many others in the zone of pivotal states do not take kindly to the Cortelyou suggestion.

Delaware Man's Opinion.

Secretary of State Caleb R. Layton of Delaware, tonight outlined the position assumed by the national committee. He said:

"I am pleased to hear that the national committee is awake to its duty to the party as a whole and that it places this duty above its responsibility to the individual. The coming campaign is one which will be fiercely contested. We need a leader in whom the people have confidence and whom they will follow. It is an emergency for a man like the late Senate Quay. His equal as a political strategist we have not today, but we have many men trained in political work, men who are familiar with the tactics of the Quay and Hanna school, men who by reason of their peculiar fitness for national leadership would give to the party such victories as it gained in 1888, again in 1896 and in 1900.

"Notwithstanding my profound respect and admiration for President Roosevelt, I think this is a time when he should seek and take advantage of the advice of our national leaders. The question is not a personal one. Of course he wants to be elected, but of paramount importance is the success of the Republican party. The party and the country as a whole are vitally interested in the issue. They are going into a battle and they have a right to have a voice in naming their leader. Their voice should be more potent than that of the presidential nominee, and they are now speaking, state by state, through their representatives in the Republican national committee.

Had Enough of Democracy.

"The country does not want a Democratic president. It has had too much experience in this line. I would not presume to say that the Democratic party has not available men for this high office. There are plenty of them. But you cannot make the plain people, the workingman, the mill worker, the miner and the every-day laborer believe it. They have no confidence in the policies followed in national affairs by the Democrats, and no matter what kind of an administration a Democratic president might give, it would not be successful, for the reason that the people would refuse to believe that it was successful.

"These deductions have a direct bearing upon the question of Mr. Cortelyou's candidacy. He may possess all the qualifications of successful leadership, but as he has never had an opportunity to display them, he is regarded as an unsafe man for the position. The present is too critical a time to develop unknown quantities, and it is for this reason that the national leaders are urging the president to concur in the selection of a man who has been tried and not found wanting."

WABASH BRANCH LINES HASTENED

Gould Approves Proposed Extension to Reach Traffic Centers.

LET STEEL CONTRACT TODAY

George J. Gould and his two companions, President E. T. Jeffrey of the Denver & Rio Grande and Benjamin Nicoll of a New York steel firm, left Pittsburgh at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning over the new Wabash line after Mr. Gould by his visit had satisfied himself that the Wabash will reach the traffic-producing points of this district and that the business will justify the cost of construction. He inspected the Wheeling & Lake Erie in the afternoon and then returned east.

One immediate result of this visit will be te award of the contract today for the steel work of the elevated line to lead from the north portal of the Mt. Washington tunnel above West Carson street and across Smithfield overhead to the surface near South First street. This road will tap the Wabash freight station and connect, it is expected, with the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company's terminal railroad, the Monongahela Connecting. Mr. Gould, with President Ramsey of the Wabash, President J. W. Patterson of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal and Messrs. Jeffrey and Nicoll, called on the officers of the Jones & Laughlin company yesterday morning and the connections with that company came in for a share of the conversation. The lake line proposed some time ago by the steel company, the aletrnative connection up Glass run, etc., were talked over briefly.

In the course of the visit here Mr. Gould looked carefully over the Duquesne way line. It is stated that the detailed plans for the steel work on this line are now being completed in the New York office of Boller & Hodge, the bridge engineers of the line, and that on their receipt, a few days hence, the call for bids on the work will be issued. This line gives the Wabash a connection with the Pittsburgh Junction line down the Pittsburgh side of the Allegheny river and thence with the Pittsburgh & Western and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh. There are indications that this connection will mean a bitter legal fight.

While here Mr. Gould met a number of the men who are interested in the addition of a new transportation line and he was given every assurance that the road will have plenty of friends.

The branch which is to be built south of Mt. Washington to a connection with the Union railroad, the Carnegie terminal line, is expected to start very shortly. This road means the carrying out of the contract which Andrew Carnegie made to start the whole plan of building the Wabash into Pittsburgh.

RED CROSS TROUBLES HAVE BEEN ADJUSTED

American Society Reorganizes by Electing Entire New Set of Officers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 16.—By the harmonious action of the opposing factions of the American Red Cross in electing an entire new set of officers, it is believed the troubles of the society have been adjusted satisfactorily. Former Surgeon-General W. K. Van Ruypen of the navy is the new president and Dr. Walter Wyman, surgeon-general of the public health and marine hospital service, is vice president. The other members of the board of trustees, the secretary and the treasurer and members of the executive committee are men of prominence, who have been active in bringing about a reorganization of the society.

The reorganization was made easy by the resignations of members of the board of trustees and other officers. The only officials who did not resign were Gen. Nelson A. Miles, E. B. Fiske of Connecticut and S. M. Jarvin of New York. The following are members of the board of trustees: Surgeon-General Walter Wyman, Charles J. Bell, Admiral Dewey, C. C. Glover, S. B. Hege, Dr. J. Wilkes O'Neil, Gen. J. M. Wilson, all of this city; Senator Proctor of Vermont and Representative William Alden Smith of Michigan.

The Pittsburgh window-glass manufacturers returned yesterday from Niagara Falls, where they met for organization. The total number of pots now pledged to the proposed association is 850, about 250 being added at the Niagara Falls meeting. When 90 per cent of the pots of the country have been signed for, the selling agency will be formally organized. There are 4,000 pots in the country. WEDDING VOWS WERE TAKEN IN SILENT SIGN LANGUAGE

Mrs. William J. Smith, Jr.　　Mr. William J. Smith, Jr.

With eyes intently fixed upon the daughter of the Rev. Dr. Alfred W. Arundel, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, who interpreted in the sign language the words spoken by her father, Miss Maud Ringer of 6364 Shakespeare street and William J. Smith, Jr., of 1525 Arch street, Allegheny, were married yesterday afternoon. The wedding took place in the residence of Dr. Arundel, in the presence of relatives of the bride and bridegroom. Both the contracting parties are deaf mutes, and first met and fell in love at the Western Pennsylvania Institute for the Deaf and Dumb at Edgewood, where they were graduated five years ago. Mrs. Smith is aged 25 and Mr. Smith is 33. Mrs. Smith lost her speech and hearing as a result of scarlet fever when a child, and Mr. Smith's trouble is due to an attack of measles. He has been in the employ of the McKenna Bros. Brass Company for four years. Miss Fannie Baxter of Shadyside and Miss Mary Lane of Mineral Ridge, O., acted as bridesmaids. Harvey C. Ringer, brother of the bride, gave his sister away, and another brother, Lawrence O. Ringer, acted as best man. Previous to the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home at 1525 Arch street, Allegheny, where the groom had a completely furnished house ready for his bride.

WOMAN WAS BITTEN BY DEADLY RATTLER

Crowd at Carnival Saw Snake Sink Its Fangs Into Face of Juno.

Despite unfavorable weather thousands attended the big carnival last night that is being given this week and next at Recreation park, Allegheny, under the auspices of the United Labor league. While a crowd stood about the pit in which Juno, the snake charmer, sits, one of the big rattlers sunk his fangs into her face just below the right eye. Swelling set in immediately, and for awhile it was feared that the poison would have a fatal effect. After being given a powerful stimulant to counteract the deadly poison Juno again entered the pit and resumed her exhibition. She is the most daring snake charmer that has been seen here. The snake that bit her yesterday was one of a boxful that arrived at the carnival yesterday, having only recently been captured.

No attempt was made last night by Tony Castalino to loop-the-loop on his bicycle. Castalino has fallen each time he has tried since last Saturday night, and is suffering from numerous painful bruises. The other exhibitions were given successfully, and a daring slack-wire performance has been added to the attractions in the aerodrome.

EMPEROR IS PRESENT.

He and Empress Will Witness Auto Contests for Bennett Cup.

HOMBURG, PRUSSIA, June 16.—Emperor William and the empress arrived here today to attend the motor contests.

There was considerable excitement this morning during the weighing of the cars which are to compete for the James Gordon Bennett cup tomorrow. A lighted match carelessly thrown down ignited petrol which was escaping from one of the cars and the whole street became a stream of flame, causing a panic among the spectators. The cars, however, were removed uninjured. The Swiss competitors have withdrawn from the James Gordon Bennett contest.

There was a cry in the streets. People rushed from their doors and strained their eyes on the struggling balloonist fighting for life. Even the poor, panting sufferer in the sick room was forgotten while the family gazed breathless at this strange tragedy of the air. Then they went back to the sick room to tell of the terrible struggle for life they had just witnessed. It did not occur to them that under their very eyes a more terrible, more pathetic struggle was going on daily.

There can be nothing more pitiful than the struggle the consumptive makes against disease. The greatest help in this struggle is gained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures obstinate coughs, weak and bleeding lungs, emaciation, and other ailments which if neglected or unskillfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

"In 1898 one of my daughters was suffering on account of a severe cough, hectic fever, wasting of flesh and other symptoms of diseased lungs," writes Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, of Barium Springs, Iredell Co., N. C. "I promptly gave her Dr. R. V. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with gratifying success, and she now enjoys excellent health. This being true, I hereby heartily endorse your medicines."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

CIVIL WAR WOUNDS HELP CAUSE VETERAN'S DEATH

Richard Foster Dies at New Castle, Pa.—Sketch of His Life.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 16.—Richard Foster, a prominent civil war veteran, who had a most thrilling service of four years, died early this morning at his home here, dissolution resulting, in great part, from wounds received in the army.

He was born in Donegal county, Ireland, 62 years ago, but came to this country during his youth. He enlisted in 1861 in the Fourth Ohio cavalry, and was captured in the summer of 1862 by Contrell's men in Georgia and held prisoner two months in the mountains, when he effected his escape. On the 18th of October, 1862, he was again captured, just after the battle of Lexington, being taken prisoner on the Henry Clay farm. He gave his parole in Henry Clay's homestead, and being without money, had to walk to Cincinnati. After being released from parole he rejoined his regiment, and at Deep Bottom, Va., the following year received a terrible wound on his right thigh from a saber in a cavalry action, which confined him to the hospital 11 months. He never recovered from that wound, although he continued in the service some time longer. At the expiration of his first enlistment he re-enlisted in the First United States cavalry and served until discharged because of wounds, June 18, 1865. He was married that year to Miss Margaret Jane Love of Butler, who survives him, with the following children: Dr. Arthur Foster, Dr. John Foster, R. Mac Foster and Mrs. C. B. George, all of this city. He also leaves two brothers—William Foster of Enon Valley and Frank Foster of New Lebanon, Pa. He attended the Trinity Episcopal church here and was a member of New Castle Post No. 1002, G. A. R. and of Encampment No. 9 of the Union Veteran Legion.

TWO BROTHERS KILLED IN A RAILROAD WRECK

Men and Companion, Who Was Injured, Had Been Visiting in Washington, Pa.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., June 16.—Two brothers were killed and a companion narrowly escaped death in a wreck on the Western Maryland railroad here this afternoon.

The dead:

WILLIAM GRADY, aged 24 years, Philadelphia.

ERNEST GRADY, aged 20 years, Philadelphia.

The injured:

EZRA HOGAN, No. 2015 William street, Philadelphia, badly crushed and bruised.

The three men were beating their way to Philadelphia from Washington, Pa., where they had been visiting J. B. Grady, the father of the dead men. Near this place a drawhead pulled out of a coal car, allowing the train to part. Running together a little later it caused a wreck. Ernest Grady and Hogan were riding between two cars when the accident occurred. Hogan mounted the car when the train parted, but Grady could not escape and was crushed to death. William Grady was trying to stop the runaway section by pulling on the brake of a lumber car when the collision came. He jumped and struck a telegraph pole and was thrown back into the wreckage, the pole falling on his head and a box car toppling over on him. It was an hour before his body was recovered. The remains of the dead men were taken to an undertaker and the father and sister, Miss Ada Grady, of 2101 Belmore avenue, Philadelphia, were notified.

Prisoners Are Sentenced.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 16.—(Special.)—The sentencing of prisoners by Judge Wallace wound up the June term of criminal court here last night. Thomas Brown, convicted of larceny, was sentenced to two years and six months in the penitentiary for shooting at Chief of Police Moon of Ellwood City, when attempting to escape arrest. John Stewart, convicted of horse stealing, received the heaviest sentence, five years in the penitentiary. Samuel Johnson, colored, was sentenced one year in the penitentiary for stealing chickens. Pick Lee was sentenced to nine months in the workhouse for stabbing another colored man.

Two Men Killed in Mine.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 16.—Joseph Malcomb and David Cox were killed by a fall of 12 feet of slate in the Kanawha Gas and Coal mine at Smiths, W. Va., today. The cave-in occurred about half a mile from the mouth of the mine. Both bodies have been recovered.

Justice of Peace Kills Himself.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 16.—(Special.)—John Marshall, justice of the peace at Beaverdale, killed himself this evening. The deed is attributed to despondency over a rebuke which Marshall received at the hands of Judge O'Connor Wednesday.

Crushed Under Fall of Rock.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 16.—(Special.)—Guiseppi Sonna, an Italian laborer, was crushed under a fall of rock on the Wabash railroad today, dying later.

CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Congregation at Westfield, Lawrence County, Pa., Will Hold Exercises Today.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 16.—The centennial anniversary of the founding of the Westfield Presbyterian church of this county, which will be observed tomorrow, will be one of the most important church events in this part of the state. Westfield is the largest and wealthiest rural congregation in the state. A handsome bronze memorial tablet to the memory of the late Rev. Dr. William M. Taylor, who for 42 years was pastor at Westfield, will also be a feature of the centennial. "In Memoriam" will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. C. H. Dunlap, formerly of this city and now pastor of the Avalon Presbyterian church. The Shenango presbytery will hold a special session at Westfield during the anniversary and many distinguished divines will attend.

Rev. Albert Joseph McCartney.

Westfield was organized June 17, 1803, and the centennial would have been observed last year but for the then recent death of the Rev. Taylor at the end of 42 years' continuous service as pastor. The memorial service will be held in the morning and will be opened by an invocation by the Rev. Dr. J. D. Morehead of Beaver Falls, assisted by the Rev. J. S. Dice of this county. The memorial tablet will be presented by Elder Robinson and will be unveiled by Miss Mabel Gilmore, a niece of the departed pastor. The Rev. N. H. Potter of Darlington, Pa., will also assist in the services, and the pastor, the Rev. Albert Joseph McCartney, will give a history of Westfield.

The church has had but six pastors during its 101 years of existence. They are the Rev. Nicholas Pittinger, 1804-1809; the Rev. James Wright, 1816-1842; the Rev. A. Sidney McMaster, 1853-1854; the Rev. Thomas G. Scott, 1857-1860; the Rev. Dr. William M. Taylor, 1860-1902, and the Rev. Albert Joseph McCartney, the present pastor. The congregation has also had five church homes, the present one having been erected some 20 years ago.

It is probable other European nations may yet become involved." He did not express an opinion as to whether Russia or Japan would finally be victorious. At 2 o'clock he addressed the veterans of the civil and Spanish wars in the court house. He arrived here last evening at 10 o'clock upon a special train and was immediately taken to the annual alumni banquet, where he was the honor guest, and responded to the toast "Our Citizens in Peace and War." President Turner left today for New York, from whence he will sail for Liverpool, England, Saturday, as a delegate to the Pan-Presbyterian assembly. RAIN CURTAILS MARINE PARADE

Atlantic City Celebration Is Marred by Bad Weather and Drowning.

PITTSBURGHERS AT THE SHORE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 16.

Wind and rain interfered with the jubilee this afternoon and tonight. The feature of tha day's program was the marine parade, in which all of the boats of the various yacht clubs of Atlantic City and neighboring resorts were to take part. The yachts were ready, but there was an east wind that caused the sea to break heavily on the bar at the inlet, effectually barring egress by the smaller boats. However, there was a parade, but the route, which was planned to be along the whole ocean front of the city, was greatly shortened and the many thousands of visitors along the boardwalk, from Heinz's pier to Chelsea, waited from 2 o'clock until they were driven from the boardwalk by a downpour of rain. The display as seen at the inlet was a magnificent one.

Though the crowd was disappointed, there was lots of excitement on the beach. The sun shone brightly until late in the afternoon and the surf at all times was full of bathers. Among the hundreds in bathing suits there were half a dozen expert swimmers who, despite all warning, persisted in swimming out beyond their depth. The life guard succeeded in rescuing five, the other was drowned before the eyes of thousands. This man was John Constapal, aged 23, of Philadelphia. With his eyes fastened upon two life guards who responded to his call for help, he sank and the body was not recovered.

Immediately after this accident Mayor Stoy ordered the whole force of life guards to go on duty tomorrow morning. He also appointed Dr. D. T. Beckwith as physician for the life guards to take charge of the resuscitating persons brought ashore by them. Dr. Beckwith was formerly a police surgeon in New York and at one time assistant surgeon of the First infantry, Rhode Island national guard.

OIL MADE BIG BLAZE.

Tank Was Wrecked and Took Fire, Blocking a Road for Over Two Hours.

A spectacular blaze was afforded yesterday at noon at Bell avenue and the macadamized road near Carnegie, by the burning of an oil wagon of the Atlantic Refining Company. While the driver was trying to leave the trolley tracks the wagon broke, and several large holes were made in the oil tank. The oil poured on the street.

The team was hitched to the rear of the wagon and the vehicle drawn off the tracks to allow an approaching car to pass. As the car went by a spark from the rail ignited the oil. In an instant the tank was ablaze. The flames shot 150 feet up into the air. Poles and wires of the traction line were burned.

A row of houses, known as "Shannon's row," was scorched and narrowly escaped destruction. Street traffic was blocked for nearly two hours. A steep embankment on one side and a hillside on the other prevented wagons from getting past.

NO GRADE CROSSINGS.

The track was asked for that the railroad freight yards at both sides of Grant avenue could be connected. The vote on the measure was 18 noes and 12 yeas.

Robert L. Henderson of the Third ward, presented an ordinance that is aimed at teh abolition of the fee tax system in the office of the collector of delinquent taxes. The measure provides that the collector be put on a salary of $4,000 a year. It was referred to the finance committee. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 16.—The Champions picked up another easy game today, defeating the Phillies 5 to 1. Clarke and his men backed up Phillippe's clever pitching in faultless style and hit the ball hard. Little Ritchey led at the bat with four singles and every man on the team got a hit. Beaumont had a busy day in center, capturing seven flies, but none of the chances offered by the Phillies seemed difficult for the Pittsburgh fielders.

It was hard for the Quakers to get the ball safe and not a man got farther than first base until the eighth inning when Titus opened with a three-base drive to right. This saved the Phillies from a shut out, Titus scoring on Hulswit's grounder to Ritchey. The Phillies put up a fairly good game in the field, Gleason's two errors in the third being the only misplays. Gleason also made one of the star plays in the seventh when he jumped into the air and pulled down Wagner's high bounder and threw Hans out at first.

Although Pittsburgh got 15 hits off McPherson they were pretty well distributed and Pittsburgh had 11 men left on bases. Leach started the run getting in the third. He led off with a single and in taking third on Beaumont's sacrifice he drew a wild throw from Gleason which allowed Tommy to reach the home plate in safety. Clarke singled, took second on Wagner's grounder to Lush, stole third and came home when Gleason fumbled Bransfield's grounder.

In the fifth Beaumont doubled to center, Clarke sacrificed and "Beau" tallied on Wagner's terrific drive to left on which Titus made a nice catch. Two more were earned by the visitors in the sixth. After Sebring's long fly was captured by Barry, Ritchey, Phelps and Phillippe hit safely in succession, filling the bases. Leach drove in Ritchey and Phelps with a good single to left.

The Champions were retired with the bases full in the seventh, Bransfield having received a pass while Ritchey and Phelps made hits. The eighth was the only inning in which Pittsburgh failed to get a hit, the side being retired in order.

The team left for home tonight and will arrive in Pittsburgh early in the morning, but they expect to see rain because St. Louis is scheduled to meet them. The Cardinals are regarded as a sort of "Jonah" by the Pittsburgh players.

Manager Clarke says there is no truth in the report that Stankard, the Holy Cross infielder, would not join the team and says he will be on hand June 25. Pitcher Lynch will join the team on Saturday and with these reinforcements Clarke hopes to have the Champions in the lead before the latter part of July. Once they get on top Clarke says his men will never again be headed. The score:

Brain Lost the Game.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Second Baseman Brain presented the New Yorks with this afternoon's game. In the ninth inning he made a miserable muff, which allowed Dahlen to score the winning run. Mathewson was batted hard at times, but sharp fielding by Gilbert and Dahlen kept the visitors' score down. O'Neil pitched good ball for the Westerners. Score:

THE SUBURBAN WON BY HERMIS

Over 30,000 People Watched the Race, and Saw Son of Hermence Win Easily.

IRISH LAD'S POOR SHOWING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 16.—Hermis, owned by Edward R. Thomas, easily won the Suburban handicap at Sheepshead bay today. The son of Hermence was on his toes when the barrier snapped. He crossed in front of six competitors, from the outside and passed the judges' stand in the lead on his journey of one and one-quarter miles. From the position of command thus secured on the rail he was never headed and won under a perfect ride by Arthur Redfern, in the time of 2:05—the best on record for the Suburban and two-fifths of a second slower than the track record of 2:04 3-5, held by McChesney.

Irish Lad, the public favorite, failed entirely to justify the confidence of his backers and finished third—nosed out of second honors by The Picket.

A great crowd journeyed to the Long Island race course to view the twenty-first running of the $20,000 classic. Perfect racing weather prevailed and despite the widespread sorrow caused by the Slocum disaster, more than 30,000 persons had passed through the gates before the hour set for the first race. The crowd grew rapidly until every available point of vantage had been taken and even the infield was dotted with enthusiasts.

Irish Lad was installed favorite for the Suburban at 6 to 5. Four and five to one could be had against Hermis; five against The Picket and the same against Proper, while Africander and Major Daingerfield were without friends at 40 or 50 to 1.

The pressure of offerings on Irish Lad was so heavy that nine to 10 was asked when the contestants were called to the post.

The field was lined up and sent away in perfect order by Starter Fitzgerald. Hermis, from outside position, shot to the front as if hurled from a catapult. Passing the judges' stand he had secured the coveted place on the rail, with Irish Lad and The Picket close behind. The others did not appear to be in the same class. On the racers sped, around the turn and down the back stretch—never changing position for an instant. Irish Lad challenged again and again, but to no purpose. He crept upon the flying leader repeatedly, but was unable to hold the terrific pace, much less overhaul him. The Picket, the hope of the western and southern contingent, ran along unconcernedly in third place until the mile post had been reached. Then he drew up and crept past the Duryea horse, inch by inch.

Hermis, never touched by the whip, simply threw defiance out to the others in the dust from his pattering hoofs and through the stretch he was not even challenged. The Picket nosed out Irish Lad for second money and the great race was over. Proper, Major Daingerfield and Africander brought up the rear.

Had the winner been pushed he would have broken the record for the track with ease. When the vast crowd realized the splendid exhibition of equine worth shown by the victory it arose enmasse and cheered him wildly, despite the fact that the bookmakers had accepted and won nearly $500,000 on the defeat of Irish Lad. Hermis was heavily backed, however, and at least one quarter of the amount taken in on the defeat of the favorite was paid out on the winner. Summary:

Suburban handicap of $20,000, for 3-year-olds and up, 1¼ miles—Hermis, 127, Redfern, 4 to 1 and even, won; The Picket, 124, Helgeson, 5 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Irish lad, 127, Shaw, even and 2 to 5, third. Time, 2:05. Proper, Major Daingerfield and Africander as named.

WON'T TRADE TENNEY.

The Pirates Have No Chance to Secure the Boston First Baseman.

BOSTON, June 16.—(Special.)—According to Capt. Fred Tenney, who is satisfied to keep right on playing baseball for Boston, and according to Manager A. C. Buckenberger, also interviewed today, Fred Clarke of the Pittsburghs has about as much chance to obtain the great Boston first baseman as he would have to find Capt. Kidd's treasure.

"Every time Pittsburgh comes here," said Buckenberger, "Clarke is after one of our players. Last year he wanted to trade catchers, at first asking Moran how he would like to play in Pittsburgh. This year he was after Pittinger and, again, for Tenney. We are pretty good natured, I think, to stand for Clarke's methods. He approaches the player before he talks with the manager, although in Tenney's case he did not do this. Down in Pittsburgh Clarke called Tenney over to the Pittsburgh bench, and they made up that old trouble between them. Clarke told afterward that he apologized to Fred. The incident came to my mind when he showed up at our grounds bright and early the other morning. He finally came out with the fact that he should like to trade Bransfield for Tenney."

"If you want to get rid of Bransfield," I said, "we'll take him in a minute, but he won't play first base for us; that's Tenney's position."

JOHNSTOWN BEATEN.

"Soldier" Mullen Pitched Homestead Team to Victory.

For the first time in two years Johnstown played at H. L. A. C. ball park at Homestead yesterday and was worsted 3 to 1. The game was one of the prettiest and cleanest played at Homestead this year, and both teams worked hard for victory. Rhodes, for Johnstown, was hit more freely than Soldier Mullen, who was on for the locals, and lost because of an error or two and the opportune hitting of Homestead. Score:

Allegheny Country Club Won the Medal Play Team and the Championship.

MATCH PLAY BEGINS TODAY

W. C. Fownes, Jr., of the Oakmont Country club, won the medal for the lowest qualifying score in the ninth annual tournament of the Allegheny Country club, begun yesterday. He returned 156 for the 36 holes. His 76 is the record of the course. His closest competitor was Dr. D. P. Fredericks of Oil City, whose score was 158. They both came home the last time round in 37, the fastest of the day.

The field of 50 starters began their journey at 9 o'clock. Despite the light rain which fell during the most of the day, some fast going was seen. For the first sixteen 178 qualified and the second sixteen 198. William Frew and Y. B. Bate will play off their tie for a place in the first sixteen this morning. C. I. Shannon won out in the play off of the tie for a place on the second sixteen against H. McSweeny and W. H. Duff II.

Mrs. B. S. Horne and Mrs. Caleb Fox, the former the present woman champion of the United States, and the latter a runner-up in a national tournament, played a match yesterday and Mrs. Horne won by one up. Mrs. Horne will defend her title this year as national champion.

Flaherty Was Formerly a Pirate.

In answer to a query it is stated that Patsy Flaherty, new pitcher for the Pirates, was formerly a member of the Pittsburgh club and pitched one or two games. Flaherty was with Louisville when that team was consolidated with Pittsburgh, and Flaherty came here but was let out, as Tannehill, a more experienced left-hand pitcher, was on the club rolls.

FRIEND DOES NOT LOSE HIS BEQUEST

Supreme Court Hands Down Important Opinions in Two Appeals.

A BURGLAR PLEADS GUILTY

The opinions of the supreme court in the Friend estate contest and in the appeal of Milovar Kovovick were received by Prothonotary George Pearson yesterday. The Friend contest has excited considerable interest in social circles, and the decision is an important one, in that it practically says forfeiture clauses in wills will have no effect in this state, where probable cause for a contest is shown.

Justice Brown wrote the opinion in the Friend estate contest, affirming the decree of orphans' court. The decedent in the second clause of her will placed $20,000 to be held in trust for her son, Porter C. Friend, and in the sixth clause she provided that if any of the children contested the will they should be deprived of any share in the estate.

The will was probated and Porter C. appealed from the probate, alleging his brother, James W. Friend, had exercised undue influence on their mother. His petition was dismissed and his brothers attempted to have his legacy forfeited for instituting the proceedings. The lower court decided against them, allowing him his share, and they appealed to the supreme court.

The supreme court says that "such conditions in wills are universally recognized as valid, and by some courts as enforcible without exception, but the better rule seems to be that the penalty of forfeiture of the gift or desire ought not to be imposed when it clearly appears. The contest was not the mere vexatious act of a disappointed child or next of kin."

The court then says that the attitude of J. W. Friend was unjustifiably hostile toward his brother Charles, and his only sister, Mrs. Maxwell and her children, and that his influence was great over his mother, the bulk of the estate going to J. W. and H. T. Friend absolutely.

In the appeal of Milovar Kovovick the Croatian whom the high court decides must hang for the killing of Contractor Samuel T. Ferguson, Justice Fell says in part: "The most important testimony tending to connect the appellant with the commission of the crime was that he owned the gun beside the battery, and that it had been last seen in his possession; that though he was idle and shiftless and never known to save money, he was after the murder in possession of a large amount of money, identical in kind and denominations and similar in appearance to that taken from the satchel; that he immediately left the locality and assumed another name.

"These and other inculpatory facts and circumstances testified to, not only indicated the appellant's guilt, but seemed to be incapable of explanation on any other reasonable hypothesis. The commonwealth's testimony, while purely circumstantial, was sufficient to warrant the verdict."

The opinion directs that the sentence of the court below be carried into effect.

William Graham pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary made by J. J. Feeney. He was not sentenced. On the evening of December 2, last year, Graham, in company with Robert F. Fry, George Anderson, James Murphy and John Kees, is alleged to have entered the home of Henry Davidson, father of Harry Davidson, delinquent tax collector of Allegheny, in West Deer township. The quartet is said to have robbed the place after burning the feet of Mr. Davidson to try to force him to disclose his money. They are also said to have maltreated Mary Porter and Rachael Holmes, who were in the house at the time. A watch and chain and $12 in money was all they secured for their trouble. The other three of the gang will be put on trial Monday.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

TO ENLARGE YARDS.

Pennsylvania Railroad Directors Appropriate $500,000 for Local Improvement.

A special telegram from Philadelphia to The Gazette last night said that the directors of the Pennsylvania railroad had authorized $500,000 for the enlargement and re-arrangement of the terminal yards of the Union station, and that after the improvements only passenger cars would be stored in the local yards.

None of the officials here could giveany information as to the exact location of the yards in question. The appropriation likely applies to the old stock yards, where new tracks are to be laid, or the yards at Twenty-eighth street.

SOCIETY

ALTHOUGH old Sol did not shine any too brightly yesterday, the women in charge of the rose fete for the benefit of the Homeopathic hospital lacked nothing but a little more sunshine to make their entertainment a success. The fete was given on the grounds surrounding the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Armstrong in Oakmont, and each train and street car brought groups of men and women from the East End all afternoon and evening. Automobiles were there, as many of them brought their occupants all in gala attire but somewhat dusty after the long ride from the city to the valley town.

The feature of the afternoon was the rose dance given on the lawn by little girls. The little ones were all dressed in full short-skirted frocks of white tarlatan with broad sashes, while on their heads were dainty pink rose petal caps and in their hands ropes of asparagus fern and pink roses. Led by Miss Ruth Bailey, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey, they glided, swayed and skipped most gracefully through the different figures of the dance without once faltering. Shortly before the dance was presented the girls held a dress rehearsal in the parish house, whence they marched down to the scene of the fete, making an exceedingly pretty sight. At the rear of the line were little Miss Clementine Clarke, Dr. and Mrs. S. Dale Clarke's daughter, and Miss Jean Bailey, a sister of the leader.

The little dancers included Miss Marjorie Skelding, Miss Ruth Bailey, Miss Jean Bailey, Miss Ruth Swartwood, Miss Marjorie Macrum, Miss Dorothy Livingstone, Miss Ellen Lewis, Miss Lillian McKee, Miss Mary McKee, Miss Sarah Abney, Miss Suzanne Armstrong, Miss Jean Armstrong, Miss Edith Armstrong, Miss Bessie Kochendorser, Miss Lucy Agnew, Miss Esther Lee, Miss Helen Hamilton, Miss Elizabeth Nimick, Miss Dorothy Nimick, Miss Ladie Morris, Miss Frances Thompson, Miss Lena Vantine, Miss Dorothy Remaley, Miss Janet Davis, Miss Margaret Patton, Miss Dorothy McLure, Miss Ruth McLure, Miss Margaret Morris, Miss Elizabeth Clarke, Miss Clementine Clarke, Miss Grace Reed, Miss Clara Reed, Miss Beatrice Bargar, Miss Katherine Cooper, Miss Emma Kerr, Miss Margaret Kerr and Miss Margaret Munroe.

The various booths, all prettily decorated with pink roses, were well patronized, the hospital booth with its array of medicines, soap, slippers and sacques being presided over by Mrs. William H. Cooper, as chairman, and Miss Susan Paul, Mrs. David Maxwell, Mrs. William Drill, Mrs. H. W. Armstrong, Mrs. W. E. Bair, Mrs. Frank Cooper and Miss Maud Hunter, all in the uniform of the red cross nurse. The men found all their wants supplied at the booth where a sign proclaimed "Smoking and Loafing permitted." Fancy tables, common sense booths, candy and cake tables were well stocked and hundreds of guests were served under the large supper tent where 14 young college men were the waiters. They were John Witherspoon, the head waiter; William Alexander, Taber Johnston, William Armstrong, Howard Armstrong, George Nicholson, Arthur Nicholson, Wilson Collier, Charles Dabney, Hugh Dabney, Benjamin Martin, Alfred Lee, Mr. Page and Mr. Bowersmith. The Japanese gaming table, in charge of Kerfoot Armstrong, and the fortune teller, the ponies and the ice cream tables were drawing cards for the younger contingent. The summer house was converted for the time into a lemonade stand.

The attendants, Miss Minty Eberhart as maid of honor and Miss Hetty Huber as bridesmaid, wore white mousseline gowns and white hats trimmed with pink roses. They carried roses of the same color. William G. Stern served as best man and John Douglass, a brother of the bride, was groomsman. The ushers included A. Schantz, O. J. Grice, Frank McDonald and Harry J. Stern. Immediately following the ceremony the wedding supper was served at the home of the bride. AMONG THE CLUBS

For Philanthropic and Civic Work.

The juvenile court, the proposed Soho public bath and wash house, and the summer playgrounds will divide the spoils after the garden party which the New Era club will give this afternoon is over. Every arrangement has been made so that there will be no postponement of the entertainment should the day be rainy instead of bright and pleasant. Large tents have been erected in front of the former Clarke mansion, the present armory of the Eighteenth regiment, in Forbes street and Craft avenue, and there will be abundance of shelter provided both in the tents and in the large drill hall, which will be occupied by the amusement committee this afternoon and evening. The afternoon euchre will commence at 2 o'clock, and no places will be reserved as there is a large demand for entrance to the game. The dance in the evening promises to be a very brilliant affair.

First Year Book to Appear.

The Woman's club of New Brighton is the first of the clubs of Western Pennsylvania to issue its new year book, which appeared yesterday. It came out in a handsome new dress, bearing the club's monogram and tied with ribbons in the club color, violet.

The club season will commence September 7 with an open meeting, when a Russian tea will be given, opening a season of study of Russian history and literature. Two weeks later, September 14, president's day, will be observed and then will follow the regular literary programs for study throughout the winter and spring, beginning with the period preceding the reign of Ivan the Terrible and continuing down to the present day. The myths and folk-lore, the architecture of Russia, its art and literature, education in Russia, Russian libraries and museums, the social classes, manners and customs and home life of the people, Russian drama and the women of Russia, past and present, are some of the interesting features which will be presented on the programs aside from the purely historical study of the land of the czar. Two afternoons will be devoted to music, including the composers of both Russia and Poland.

On January 5 there will be an evening of nonsense, on February 1 a lecture by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy, March 5 an open meeting and June 6 a picnic. The club meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at the homes of its members.

Its officers include president, Miss Bessie S. Cuthbertson; first vice president, Mrs. James D. Moorehead; second vice president, Mrs. Adoniram Judson Bonsall; recording secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilde; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Agnes Scott Wendt, and treasurer, Mrs. W. Albert Myler. The program committee consisted of Mrs. Thomas Tyng McNish, Mrs. Thomas D. Brown, Miss Maria Louise Scott, Mrs. William Copeland and Mrs. Francis W. Walker.

Orr of Allegheny, will graduate this year and last December she was elected president of her class, the senior class.

Shot at Man Carrying Dynamite.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., June 16.—(Special.)—As Chief of Police Garber and Officer Harris were walking along Third avenue tonight they caught sight of Carl Rodden slinking through a side street and carrying a sack over his shoulder. The Medicine that has Cured the Ills of a Million Women is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

STERILITY

How shall a mother who is weak and sick with some female trouble bear healthy children?

How anxious women ought to be to give their children the blessing of a good constitution!

Many women long for a child to bless their home, but because of some debility or displacement of the female organs, they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the parts, curing all displacements and inflammation.

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is given free to all expectant or would-be mothers. The medicine that instantly asserts its curative powers in the ills of women is

Read these Two Remarkable Cures.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—During the early part of my married life I was very delicate in health. I had two miscarrages, and both my husband and I felt very badly as we were anxious to have children. A neighbor who had been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it, and I decided to do so. I soon felt that my appetite was increasing, the headaches gradually decreased and finally disappeared, and my general health improved. I felt as if new blood coursed through my veins, the sluggish tired feeling disappeared, and I became strong and well.

"Within a year after I became the mother of a strong healthy child, the joy of our home. You certainly have a splendid remedy, and I wish every mother knew of it. Sincerely yours, MRS. ANNA POTTS, 510 Park Ave., Hot Springs, Ark."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for five years, and gave birth to two premature children. After that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy wife within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, which is the pride and joy of our household. If every woman who is cured feels as grateful and happy as I do, you must have a host of friends, for every day I bless you for the light, health and happiness your Vegetable Compound has brought to my home. Sincerely your friend, MRS. MAE P. WHARRY, Flat 31, The Norman, Milwaukee, Wis." Sec. Northshore Oratorical Society.

W YORK STOCK MARKET CLOSED ACTIVE AND FIRM

Wall Street Is Revising Its First Opinion of the Southern Pacific Financiering—Break in Crucible the Local Feature.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The London market for American securities came weak and lower yesterday, and foreigners were rather free sellers of Southern Pacific and Union Pacific. The offerings were all taken, however, by representatives of inside interests, the Harrimans being credited with purchases of 25,000 shares Southern Pacific alone. The stock opened 1 per cent lower at 45, but support was immediately forthcoming and there was a rally to 46⅝, the market closing at 45⅞, the same as the night before. Union Pacific also sold off in the early dealings, touching 86⅞, but it subsequently rallied a point and closed practically unchanged for the day. Wall street is revising its first impression regarding the Southern Pacific financiering, and will ultimately reach the conclusion that it is better to pay floating debts and make improvements out of the sale of stock than out of the proceeds of bonds, and that it is also better to obtain a hundred cents on the dollar when raising new capital than to stand the ordinary syndicate "shave." The mortgage indebtedness of the Pacific roads is so complicated with various issues that it would be impossible to issue and sell on satisfactory terms a general mortgage bond at a low rate. As to postponing dividends on the common stock, the proposed issue of preferred stock would no more have that effect than the liquidation of debts and the making of improvements out of earnings.

There was a decided falling off in the volume of trading during the early part of the session, but when it was seen that there were no stop-loss orders in Southern Pacific to liquidate, and that there was no such discouragement on the part of the public as Wall street professional opinion would indicate, the tone of the general market became firmer. In the final dealings there was an all-round recovery, the effect of which was to close the market at moderate net gains for the day.

The late strength of the Cassatt-Gould stocks furnished the excuse for reviving the rumors of an amicable understanding between these interests. Pennsylvania rallied to 115⅝ and closed at 115⅝ bid, a net gain of ½ per cent. Baltimore & Ohio rallied to 80⅝ and closed at 80⅛ bid, a net gain of ¾. Missouri Pacific advanced from 91 to 92¼ and Missouri, Kansas & Texas preferred rose 1½ per cent to 37½. While Wall street was congratulating itself that the friction in the railroad world was being removed, Mr. Gould and some of his Wabash lieutenants were in Pittsburgh holding a conference, the object of which, rumor said, was anything but friendly to Pennsylvania.

An unpleasant reminder of the dullness in business which is cutting down railroad traffic was the declaration of a semi-annual dividend of 1 per cent on Lake Erie & Western preferred, as compared with 2 per cent for the preceding semi-annual period. The stock has been very inactive, but was nominally quoted at 96 bid, 110 asked. Yesterday it sold at 95 and closed at 90 bid.

The only active member of the industrial list was Consolidated Gas, which opened at 190 and advanced to 193½, closing with a net gain of 4 per cent. Steel preferred opened at 54¼, which was the lowest for the day, and rallied to 54¾. Amalgamated Copper was dull within a range of 49⅝ and 49¾. There was less activity in the tractions, but they participated in the final rally and closed fractionally higher for the day.

Call loan rates were easy all day and closed offered at 1 per cent. The weekly statement of the Bank of England made a strong showing, there having been an increase in reserve for the week of $6,725,000 and a decrease in loans of $1,410,000. The Bank of France reported a decrease of $2,510,000 in gold on hand and a decrease of $7,330,000 in loans. Discount rates in Paris are now down to the low level of the year.

Commodity markets were lower, wheat declining a cent, corn a half cent and cotton a small fraction. Crop news was favorable.

The only feature of the local stock market, aside from its continued dullness, was the decline in Crucible Steel common, which sold down to 4 on the execution of an order which came into the market just before the close. There were no sales of the preferred, nor of River Coal or Pittsburgh Coal preferred. Pittsburgh Coal common sold unchanged at 14⅝. Westinghouse Electric lost a fraction, selling at 77. Manufacturers Light and Heat was a shade firmer at 30. The remainder of the list was neglected.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Yesterday's local stock market was one of the narrowest of the year. There have been days when the sales were smaller, but there have been few, if any days, when the dealings were confined to so few a number of securities. There were no transactions in such stocks as Pittsburgh Coal preferred, River Coal common and preferred, Crucible Steel preferred, National Fire Proofing common and preferred, United States Steel common and preferred and Westinghouse Airbrake. In some of these stocks there were no offerings all day, indicating that holders are not anxious to sell at current prices. River Coal preferred was firmer at 21 bid, 22 asked, and Pittsburgh Coal preferred was quoted at 54⅛ bid, with no stock offered for sale.

At yesterday's decline, the $25,000,000 Crucible Steel common was quoted on a market valuation of exactly $1,000,000, as compared with a market valuation of $3,750,000 just one year ago. The preferred was quoted on a basis of $8,500,000, as compared with $20,500,000 just a year ago. The common and preferred combined, having a par value of $50,000,000, was yesterday quoted on a basis of $9,500,000, as compared with $24,250,000 one year ago. When the company was organized it had $6,000,000 cash working capital, and one of the 13 underlying properties absorbed (the Park Steel) was capitalized at a half million more than the present market value of the entire Crucible common and preferred stock. Unless the company is in worse shape than any outsider has yet feared, the stock is evidently selling too low. It had no support yesterday, however, and the decline in the common occurred on the marketing of less than 400 shares.

The national banks of Pittsburgh are again more than $2,000,000 under reserve requirements, as will be seen in the following reserve statement compiled by R. J. Stoney, Jr., from the statements made at the close of business June 8, comparison being made with the last previous reports of March 28:

Reserve, decrease	$1,040,052
Deposits, increase	643,379
Loans, increase	754,682
Specie, increase	125,501
Legal tenders, increase	278,127
Circulation, increase	420,390
Due from legal reserve agents, decrease	1,443,770

The banks hold $2,131,231 less than 25 per cent, as required by law, or 23.22 per cent of net deposits. As compared with the statements made on June 9, 1903, the following changes are shown:

Reserve, increase	$1,624,990
Deposits, decrease	8,775,191
Loans, decrease	1,393,540
Specie, increase	100,280
Legal tenders, decrease	210,628
Circulation, increase	2,887,670
Due from legal reserve agents, increase	1,733,338

The comptroller of the currency has approved the application of Charles C. Townsend, Joseph Bentley, Persifer D. Hall, Thomas Kennedy, John S. Boots and George Davidson to organize the old National bank of New Brighton, Pa., with a capital of $100,000.

A Boston dispatch said: The failure of the bucket shops one after another proves that the public is an increasing buyer of stocks and no one should be surprised if others who are bucking this market go the same way.

Duquesne National bank directors have elected James W. Patterson of the Wabash terminal a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Munhall, and have also elected James McKay vice president.

The American Sewer Pipe Company has made application to have its stock listed on the Pittsburgh stock exchange.

Fayette County Gas was quoted at 74 bid, 77 asked, and Union Natural Gas at 80 bid.

The North American Company reports for the fiscal year ended May 31 a net income of $801,292, an increase of $323,755 over the previous year. The company has written off its participation in the second underwriting of the United States Shipbuilding Company bonds, but did not charge off $1,000,000 to good will, as was done the year before.

During the next few weeks there will be an exodus of prominent capitalists from Wall street. Most of them will spend their vacation in Europe. E. H. Harriman, James Stillman, George F. Baker and H. McK. Twombly have all engaged passage for Europe on the steamship Oceanic, sailing on June 29. George J. Gould will sail for Europe on June 25.

It did not become known until late in the day that a privilege of retiring the Southern Pacific's preferred stock at 115 from July, 1905, to July, 1910, was to rest in the company. There was an active demand for Southern Pacific 4s in the bond department on the ground that the funding of the floating debt into contingent dividend capital instead of into fixed interest bearing bonds added to the security of the bonds. Southern Pacific preferred when issued sold on the curb at 121 and the rights to subscribe at par at 3¼ to 4½.

The reduction in the dividend rate of Lake Erie & Western preferred and the poor showing of quarterly semi-annual net earnings by the Vanderbilt railroads were not stimulating factors, but the market ignored them.

In New York government bonds were firmer. United States 2s, the old 4s registered and the new 4s advanced ⅛ and the old 4s coupon ¼ per cent on call.

Reading directors have declared a regular quarterly annual dividend of 2 per cent on its first preferred stock, payable September 9 to stock of record August 22.

American Pipe Manufacturing Company directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 15.

A dividend of 1¾ per cent has been declared on the preferred stock of the American Iron and Steel Company, payable July, as registered June 23.

The International Smokeless Powder and Chemical Company's quarterly dividend of ¾ of 1 per cent, declared yesterday, is the second dividend paid on the common stock by the company. It is payable July 1 to stock of record June 20. The first dividend on the common stock was paid in April.

Directors of Electric Storage Battery Company have declared the usual dividend of 1¼ per cent on both the common and preferred stocks, payable July 1.

The New York Central declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable July 15.

The Philadelphia News Bureau says: The resignation of W. T. Graham as president of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company was not unexpected. His closer alliance with the American Can Company will prove beneficial to the latter, as his administration of its affairs will probably be on a more independent basis than the company has yet had, especially in the matter of the purchase of the principal raw material, tin plate. If Mr. Graham administers the affairs of the company from a purely independent standpoint the result will undoubtedly be greatly to the benefit of the can company. He and his party are supposed to have become heavier holders of its stock than ever. The can company has $44,000,000 each of preferred and common stock authorized, but issued only $41,233,300 of each. It was absurdly over-capitalized, but has now gotten down to a pretty fair working basis. Some few mortgages have been paid off, and the company has no indebtedness whatever, is discounting its bills where possible, and can apply whatever earnings it has to dividends. There is no likelihood that the 7 per cent cumulative preferred dividends can ever be paid, they would require $2,886,331, or say 14 per cent on its total annual business at present prices. This is extreme inasmuch as making cans simply adds a little to the value of the tin plate, and between half and two-thirds the total revenue goes out simply to pay for tin plate. The company bought out 89 concerns, but nine of these simply sold their business. The remaining 80 factories have been scaled down to 31, which are operated, with two machine shops and two detinning factories, treating the scrap produced in making cans. There is, of course, a possibility that the present move may eventuate in an absorption on reduced capitalization by the Steel Corporation, but rumors of this should be accepted with much reserve.

Much interest is being taken in financial circles in the affairs of the City Trust and Banking Company of Baltimore, as a result of what may be termed a test case involving the liability of negligent directors. Messrs. Thomas Hughes and Clifton Doll Benson, special counsel appointed by order of the circuit court No. 2 of Baltimore to investigate and report upon the responsibility of the directors of the company, have submitted their report that all the directors are liable to the creditors of the company. The grounds of the alleged responsibility are that the directors declared dividends while the company's capital was impaired; that among the notes of the company in the hands of the receivers are loans which had been made contrary to the charter of the company, and that the directors are liable for allowing the $20,000 bond of Frank J. Kohler, the former secretary and treasurer of the company, to lapse, and for losses resulting from loans which were made by Mr. Kohler without authority or knowledge of the directors. The report further states that in February, 1903, it became known to the directors of the company that Frank J. Kohler had made certain unauthorized loans, and that the directors had required Mr. Kohler to transfer and deliver to the company all of his stocks, bonds, life insurance policies and other property and effects, out of which was afterward realized by the trust company and the receivers about $56,000 in cash. Then it was, so the report says, that the City Trust directors should have made the claim on Mr. Kohler's bond. The report states that the directors should be held liable for the loss sustained on account of the unauthorized loans made by Kohler, upon the theory that they should have known of the existence of the loans. The amount for which the directors are sought to be held liable is about $65,000. No charges or reflections are made in the report against or upon any person connected with the company, with the exception of Mr. Kohler, he being alone blamed for the company's failure, although Messrs. Hughes and Benson charge the directors with being civilly liable for negligence in not knowing of the fraudulent transactions of Kohler, or of the company's impairment of capital brought about by such transactions.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

F. A. Heinze, who has been operating the Gem mine owned by H. L. Frank, under lease and bond, has struck a rich vein of copper-silver ore and is shipping a lot of it. Developments on his Belmont claim continue; a good vein has been cut, but no cross-cutting will be done until a depth of 1,000 feet has been reached.

Daly-West has declared its regular monthly dividend of 40 cents a share; Grand Central (Utah), its regular monthly dividend of 10 cents a share; Silver King (Utah), its regular monthly dividend of 66 2-3 cents a share, and Utah Cons. (Highland Boy), its regular semi-annual dividend of $1 50 a share.

In spite of the strike situation in Colorado, it is a notable fact that the stocks of the Portland, Gold Coin, Vindicator Consolidated held their own very well, declining only a small fraction.

A rich streak of gold and silver ore has been encountered within the past few days on the 500-foot level of the Montana Tonopah mine. It is impossible to estimate at present the extent of this discovery. On several other properties in this camp rich strikes have been made during the past two weeks.

J. B. Whitlock, superintendent at Roosevelt, Idaho, reports that in the tunnel on the H. T. assays taken at regular intervals have averaged $6 per ton for 300 feet. At 304 feet an assay of the whole face of the tunnel gave $253 a ton; at 306 feet values taken the same way went $264 a ton. The Mollie tunnel, in the same group, has been driven 52 feet and values at the present face gave $90 a ton. Other much larger values have been found within the past two weeks, one going over $1,200 a ton. A 20-stamp mill has been contracted for from the Colorado Iron works.

The double compartment shaft on the Climax is down 64 feet in soft ore and quartz boulders. An assay of the ore from the bottom of the shaft taken a few days ago gave $195 a ton. Much higher values have been found.

Superintendent Abbott reports that the west crosscut on the Sunnyside, started January 4, has been driven 208 feet and drifted on for 137 feet, and with upraises and winzes has shown the ore body to be at least 33 feet deep. This whole body of ore averages $8 a ton.

The Dewey mine is being steadily developed toward the south. The work has opened up a stope 70 feet wide that shows satisfactory values.

The annual meeting of the Blue Ribbon Company was held at their offices in the Ireland building on Tuesday and resulted in the reelection of all the old officers of the company and but one change in the board of directors, D. W. McKee of Pittsburgh being substituted for J. W. Crawford. J. N. Bradley, president, will still look after the business needs of the company as heretofore. C. R. Rinker of Council Bluffs, Ia., secretary of the company, in speaking of the futures, was very enthusiastic.—Idaho Springs Gazette.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Tin turned easier today, with London cabling a decline of 12s 6d to £118 15s for spot and of 15s to £113 5s for futures. Locally prices were lowered to $26.00@26.50 for spot. Copper advanced 5s in London, with spot closing at £56 7s 6d and futures at £56 5s. Locally the market was unchanged with lake quoted at $12 62½@12 75; electrolytic at $12 50@12 62½ and casting at $12 12½@12 25. Lead was unchanged at $4 20@4 30 in the local market, while in London there was a decline of 2s 6d to £11 6s 3d. Spelter was unchanged at £21 15s. Iron was unchanged at 51s 3d in Glasgow and at 42s 6d in Middlesboro. The local market was quiet; No. 1 foundry, northern, is quoted at $14 50@15 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $14 00@14 50; No. 1 foundry, southern, and No. 1 foundry, southern soft, at $13 25@13 75. Pig iron warrants are weak at $9 00.

WALL STREET EASIER ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Better Knowledge of Plan to Sell $40,000,000 of New Bonds Helps Market.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says: There was a disposition in Wall street yesterday to modify the unfavorable opinion regarding the Southern Pacific plan to sell $40,000,000 in new 7 per cent preferred stock, but the modification of the sentiment of professional Wall street was to some extent the result of a desire to await official information before judgment was finally passed. A clearer understanding of the plan destroyed the force of much of the adverse arguments which were heard against the scheme on the previous day.

The fact that the present Southern Pacific stockholders will have an opportunity to share in the distribution of the 7 per cent dividends besides obtaining the privilege to exercise a right valued at 3 to 4 per cent was thought to have been a fair feature of the financial plan. There stood out, however, the facts that the Southern Pacific had a debt of $30,000,000; that with all the money already spent on improvements it still needed a great deal more, and that to get the money the company was offering as an inducement to its stockholders a 7 per cent interest rate, considered high.

The general market at first was nervous as a result of the erratic movements in Union Pacific and Southern Pacific. Finally, when support was extended Southern Pacific and the stocks settled down, the rest of the list assuming a firmer tone. Sentiment was unfavorably influenced by the showing made by the Vanderbilt roads for the quarter and half year of these properties. The hard winter and shrinkage of business in general accounted for the decreased receipts.

The reduction of the preferred dividend of the Lake Erie & Western, a matter of comparatively small significance in itself, but an index of the extent of the business depression, drew forth unfavorable comparisons of managements.

In the commodity markets wheat was irregular and fractionally lower, while corn stood firm. Cotton prices were perceptibly lower. Advices continue to indicate that there will be a large crop.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC PLAN.

Statement Given Out in Regard to Offer of Preferred Stock to Shareholders.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The Southern Pacific Company has issued a formal statement regarding the proposed preferred stock. Forty million dollars Southern Pacific preferred will be offered to the stockholders at par, redeemable at 115 between July, 1905, and July, 1910, and will be convertible into common stock.

This issue will provide for all floating debts and expenditures authorized or contemplated during the next year, and will leave, according to the official statement, upward of $30,000,000 of free and negotiable securities in the treasury. The statement adds that this will enhance the credit of the company and enable it to refund its bonded obligations falling due during the next three years to advantage.

GOODLAND, IND., June 16.—The doors of the Home bank were closed today. The whereabouts of H. D. Gilman, president and cashier, are unknown. Mr. Gilman left here Monday with the avowed intention of trying to secure some money of a bank in Indianapolis, promising to return Tuesday and has not been heard from.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 1 per cent on its preferred stock, a reduction of 1 per cent from its previous payment. An official explanation says: "The accounts of the railroad for the six months ending June 30 show net earnings of $119,533, as against $238,432 the previous year. This decline is largely accounted for by the severity of the winter and the congestion of traffic."

BOSTON, June 16.—Everett W. Burdette, who was appointed special master to take evidence here in a suit brought by the Western Union Telegraph Company against the American Bell Telephone Company to recover nearly $4,000,000, has begun the hearings. The alleges that the telephone company is obligated to the Western Union for failure to turn over, for 17 years, 20 per cent of the stock and dividends it received from subcompanies, in addition to 20 per cent of the cash rentals for use of certain patents.

The Three Rivers

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 16.—The stage of the river at 6 o'clock this evening marked 14.2 feet and falling, a fall of .8 during the last 24 hours. Weather partly clear and cloudy, with heavy rains during the forenoon. All the local packets, including the Keystone State for Pittsburgh, were in and out on time with fair trips. The levee was not a scene of much activity today, there being no towboat movements except those of the harbor craft. The W. B. Calderwood is laid up at Middleport, having new boilers and a cylinder put on her. The steamer New South of the Cincinnati, Memphis & New Orleans Packet Company will be sold by the United States marshal, Viv J. Fagin, next Saturday, to settle the claims of creditors. The boat has had a stormy life. She was originally put in the Louisville trade against the regular packets. She then passed into the hands of the Cincinnati & Louisville Packet Company, and was transferred to the Memphis and New Orleans trade. Two years ago a company in New Orleans bought the boat for an excursion boat. This company returned the boat to the original owners. The Rees Lee arrived from Memphis today with a good trip of both freight and passengers. She returns Saturday. Owners and operators of boats report a big increase in the passenger business for points up the river. The missionary work of the Ohio Valley Improvement association will be renewed within the next ten days. Col. John L. Vance, president of the association, will make a tour of the entire valley on a lecture trip and endeavor to awaken the enthusiasm of two years ago in the interest of the association. The steamer Queen City will arrive tomorrow from Pittsburgh with a big passenger list for the St. Louis fair, so it is reported. The excursionists will be transferred to the steamer Rees Lee here for the trip to Cairo and to another boat which will take them up the Mississippi to St. Louis.

FERRYBOAT CHANGES HANDS.

The Ollie Neville Goes to Ironton—Very Quiet Rivers for June.

The ferryboat Ollie Neville was sold yesterday by Broker T. M. Davis to Ketterer & Tanner of Ironton, O., for $2,000. The boat has been plying between the West End and Locust street, Allegheny, for several years, and was owned by John Dippold. She was built for the East Liverpool ferry, and after running there some time was purchased by a man at Valley Camp. The new owners will take the boat to Ironton immediately and use her in ferry and general towing business.

Capt. Holmes Harger, Sr., one of the very oldest rivermen in Pittsburgh, says that in his many years of experience he never knew navigation so much at a standstill at this time in the year. Towboats are having difficulty getting up the Ohio, but packets are still running regularly. The old channel is being closed at Merriman in order to allow the construction of a new dam there. The water in the new channel is very low. The Tornado had difficulty there yesterday with a tow of empty craft.

Local River Notes.

The stage of water in the Ohio river according to the gauges at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night, was 4.7 feet and rising slowly.

The Virginia will arrive tonight from Cincinnati.

The Columbia is the Morgantown packet today, with Capt. Robert DeMain in command.

The big Sprague is making good time coming up the river, but it is thought that she can get no further than Middleport, O., until there is higher water.

The Greenwood from Charleston and the Lorena from Zanesville will be here today.

Considerable interest is being taken in the election to be held by Harbor 25 tomorrow morning. The contest will be the most spirited for several years past.

GREAT FALLING OFF IN IMPORTS OF IRON

American Receipts for Month of May Aggregated Only 3,976 Tons.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 16.—The imports of foreign pig iron, scrap iron, old iron rails, structural iron, steel billets, steel blooms, steel wire rods, scrap steel and old steel rails, which, during some months within the past two years have aggregated close onto 100,000 tons, fell to 3,976 tons last month.

The pig iron imported in April was 1,935 tons, most of which came from Liverpool. Pittsburgh bought the most of this on old time contracts. The steel mills in Pittsburgh and vicinity will also consume the bulk of the other iron and steel material enumerated. The imports of scrap iron, old iron rails, structural iron, steel billets, steel blooms, steel wire rods, scrap steel, etc., made up a total of 2,041 tons.

The iron, chrome and manganese ores imported in May represented in all 22,342 tons as against 35,775 tons for April. Nineteen thousand nine hundred tons were shipped here last month, all of which came from Daiquiri, Cuba. The chrome ore—1,878 tons—came from Engo bay, from where 1,614 tons were forwarded, and from Smyrne, which Turkish port shipped 264 tons. The imports of manganese amounted to but 564 tons. Yokohama, Hamburg and Liverpool were the shippers. There were no imports of iron pyrites in May.

CONTRACT LET FOR BIG HOTEL

Apartments at Euclid Avenue and Rural Street Will Cost $100,000.

TWO WYLIE AVENUE SALES

Architect E. J. Shellentrager yesterday awarded the contract to Charles Reif, Jr., of Allegheny, for the finest apartment hotel that has been projected this year. The building will cost $100,000. It will be built on a lo[illegible] 100x100 feet, at the northest corner of Eu[illegible] avenue and Rural street, Nineteenth [illegible] Instead of building out to the street [illegible] building will be set back at least 25 [illegible] the street and the grounds in front [illegible] with trees and shrubbery. The plans call for a fireproof structure four stories high and measuring 100x65 feet. It will contain over 100 rooms, arranged single and ensuite, to meet the wants of tenants. Every room will be finished in hardwood and provided with gas and electric lights and steam heat. There will be 26 tile bath rooms in the building and a large billiard room and library, besides spacious parlors on the first floor. A cafe will be provided, but no cooking by the tenants will be allowed, as it is the intention to make the hotel strictly high class. The flats of from three to five rooms and bath will rent for from $50 to $60 a month and the total rental of the building will be $18,000 a year.

The same architect has been commissioned to prepare plans for a brick and terra cotta residence for E. E. Keller, vice president of the Westinghouse Machine Company. The house will contain 16 rooms, all finished in hardwood and will have a tile roof. The site is the northwest corner of Murtland avenue and Meade street, a very attractive part of the well-known Westinghouse park property, where Architect Shellentrager has built a number of high class residences for other Westinghouse officials. The Keller house will cost about $30,000.

Contractors Charge Discrimination.

A matter of more than usual interest to builders came up yesterday in connection with the application of W. H. Haynes for a building permit to build cement block houses in Hazelwood. The permit was refused by the city building inspector on the ground that the foundation wall was to be only 12 inches wide, the superintendent of building inspection contending that no more permits would be issued for foundations less than 14 inches wide. Recently a permit was granted, it is said, for a house in the same neighborhood whose foundation of terra cotta was only eight inches wide. Contractors claim that owing to the enormous tensile strength of cement the foundation of such blocks will bear many times the weight of a hollow terra cotta foundation, even if the latter is twice as wide, whereas, in this case, it was narrower. The state law provides that all foundations should be at least 18 inches wide, but it does not specify the materials to be used. If the law were adhered to strictly, dozens of permits issued would be invalid, it is said. The fact that cement blocks are growing in favor every year for building materials, as shown by the two or more companies that were formed in Pittsburgh last year to manufacture them, should entitle their users to the same regulations that hold in the use of other materials which have been shown by experiment to be less substantial.

Two Good Deals in Wylie Avenue.

The Sarah Ingram property at Nos. 1011-1013 Wylie avenue, near Washington street, Seventh ward, has been sold to Martin Thomas Burke for $23,750. The lot is 44x96 feet and is improved with a three-story brick building. This is the first large sale of property in this locality for several weeks and is at the rate of $540 a front foot or $5 62 a square foot. Another sale amounting to $25,000 has been articled for through the office of S. Arnold & Co., the property being located in Wylie avenue, near Congress street.

William L. Sutter has purchased from W. W. Nesbitt an irregular shaped lot measuring 50x50x75 feet, at the corner of Washington avenue and Allen street, Thirty-first ward, for $18,000. The property is improved.

Brokers are doing no little guessing on the location of a property which is known to have been sold last week for $100,000. The papers in the deal have been made out and signed, but no deed has been registered. The sale is said to be a significant one, as the property is in the downtown district and will be improved considerably by the new owner.

Paid $100 Penalty for No Permit.

Men who carelessly or willfully proceed to erect buildings without first having taken out a permit got a wholesome object lesson yesterday when Magistrate Frank Haskins in Allegheny fined Thomas Kirkland of 1108 Bidwell street, $100 and costs, because he had not been authorized by the bureau of building inspection to put up a frame building on the rear of his lot. The fine is the full limit of the ordinance for such offenses. Several informations will be made against other offenders.

Alsace street: Fred Bruckman sold to William J. Brown an improved lot 65x35 feet, at Alsace and Fremont streets, Thirty-seventh ward, for $4,700.

Terrace street: Charles J. Moye sold to Bessie Anderson 50x150 feet, in Terrace street, Fourteenth ward, for $3,500.

S. Arnold & Co. sold for James Anderson a 6-room brick house in Bedford avenue for $2,600 cash. The same agents also sold a lot 47x100 feet in Ingram for John Heslip for $850 cash.

The Real Estate Savings and Trust Company of Allegheny sold for J. C. Ewing to Edwin C. Whitehouse, lot 40x120 feet, in Forest avenue, Bellevue. Consideration $500 cash.

POTATOES ARE LOWER; PEACHES MOVE BETTER

Butter Supply Is Very Light—Eggs Are Advanced—Corn Is Very Slow.

Potatoes were easier yesterday; the market broke a few days ago and recovered very suddenly, but dealers say they will be disappointed if there is not a $4 market next week. Arrivals are much heavier. Old stock is holding about the same and will likely continue very firm to the last. One of the biggest houses in the city reports that it has but one more car to come. Carrots are in good demand and prices have been advanced, owing to present scarcity. Beans are moving more freely every day. Strawberries are doing only fair, the supply of Marylands and Ohios being ample now. Onions are slow while cherries are coming in abundantly. The first Boomboro cherries arrived yesterday, though other Maryland stock has been on the market for several days. Peaches will be here in big quantities next week and according to reports yesterday the shipments for June this year will be heavier than the July shipments last year.

The butter supply is light and the stock is commanding full prices with a steady market. The very light supply is attributed to the poor condition of cattle, as is usually the case after severe winters. It is not likely that the supply will be very heavy until August. Eggs are higher, fancy stock sold yesterday as high as 19 cents; at this season of the year, quality is the main thing in the egg market and consumers are willing to pay the prices. Cream cheese is said to be lower now than for six years, and business is reported fair. Hay is hard to sell at present. Notwithstanding light receipts, the big glut here recently is still having its effect. Corn is not wanted and prices have been reduced on shelled. There is plenty of wheat and oats straw and the market is rather slow; quotations are reduced accordingly. Oats are offering at 47½c and buying is none too brisk. A number of local grain dealers are attending the national hay convention now in session at St. Louis.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania, 22 cars hay, 6 cars oats, 3 cars corn, 2 cars feed, 3 cars straw. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 4 cars hay, 1 car oats. Baltimore & Ohio, 5 cars hay.

Dealers charge an advance of 5c a bushel on grain and $3 00 a ton on hay and millfeed from warehouse in less than carload lots.

BIG CANADIAN CROPS WEAKEN WHEAT MARKET

Lower Cables and Liberal Receipts in Northwest Were Also Factors.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 16.—Canadian reports of a large increase in acreage were influential today in weakening wheat. Final figures on July were ⅝c below last night's close. Corn is up a shade. Oats gained ⅛c and provisions 10c to 22½c.

Lower cables, liberal receipts in the northwest and generally favorable weather caused an easier tone in wheat at the start, initial quotations on July being down ⅛c to ⅝c, at 84⅝@84⅞c. In addition to the usual market influences the failure of a prominent commission house last night was a factor of considerable importance during the first hour today. Shortly after the opening a good deal of long wheat for September delivery was sold for account of the defunct firm. As a result the market for the September option was quite weak. As soon as the pressure on September was removed, sentiment in the pit became much firmer. Foreign crop news was bullish. The drought in Roumania was still unrelieved, and a report of the Russian secretary of agriculture claimed that cold weather and drought had caused serious damage to crops, especially winter wheat. The news from Russia, however, was practically the only bullish news received during the day.

The predominance of advice of a bearish character soon caused a reversal of sentiment, resulting in a gradual decline. Selling developed on a reported increase of about 10 per cent in the Canadian acreage. Excellent weather conditions in the northwest also brought out selling orders. From 85¼c July steadily receded to 84c. The close was at 84¼c. September closed at 79¾c, after ranging between 79⅝@79¾c and 80⅝c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 137,800 bushels. Primary receipts were 314,100 bushels compared with 298,600 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 256 cars, against 145 cars last week and 264 cars a year ago.

Small receipts today and estimated light arrivals tomorrow were influences that held corn prices firm, notwithstanding the weakness of wheat. The report of a Cincinnati trade journal on the condition of the crop helped the market. The volume of trading was small, there being little disposition to trade either way. The market closed at about yesterday's final figures. July opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 48¾@49c, sold between 48¾c and 49¼c, and closed at 48¾@48⅞c. Local receipts were 260 cars, with 40 of contract grade.

Smallness of receipts in comparison with yesterday's estimate had a strengthening influence on the oats market. Trading was exceedingly dull and of small volume. The principal demand was for September. July opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 39⅜c@39½c, ranged between 39⅜c and 39⅝c, closing at 39½c. Local receipts were 69 cars.

Provisions were active and strong on an urgent demand from shorts. Small receipts of hogs was one of the main factors in the situation. Realizing by packers was a feature of trading. The market closed well toward the top, with September pork up 22½c at $12 87½. September lard was up 10c at $7 00. Ribs were 10@12½c higher at $7 45@7 47½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 23 cars; corn, 297 cars; oats, 90 cars; hogs, 19,000 head.

Wabash an Active Competitor.

The St. Paul, Minn., Dispatch said yesterday: "A sensation was created today by the receipt by St. Paul passenger officials of authorization to meet the Soo lines summer tourist schedule of east bound rates to New England and the Atlantic seaboard, via the Wabash out of Chicago and the Canadian Pacific. The action is viewed with special interest because of the fact that the Wabash has always complained severely of Soo and Canadian Pacific competition and now entered into a contract with the Canadian Pacific for the protection of rates based on the Soo schedule. The Wabash-Canadian Pacific combine will handle eastbound business east of Montreal over the connecting lines that have always taken the business and under arrangements such that they will pro rate on the rate used, accepting less than their standard divisions. The action of the Wabash splits the business previously handled exclusively by the Grand Trunk out of Chicago between the Wabash and the Grand Trunk. It is not considered probable that other lines will become involved. The new rates are now in effect and will continue on sale until September 30, with the usual limits. They average for the round trip from St. Paul from $5 to $20 lower than the summer rates offered by standard lines."

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 5 points in response to steady European cables and repeated advices claiming unfavorable weather for moving the new Brazilian crop. Wall street houses were increasingly good buyers as the session progressed, and in the late trading purchases were accelerated by reports that the Colombian and Venezuelan old crops had been marketed and that the prospects of the new crop were not promising. Following this report prices increased their gain to a matter of 20@25 points and the market was finally steady on that basis, with sales reported of 87,500 bags, one of the best day's business in some time. The transactions included June, 5.95c; July, 5.95@6.05c; September, 6.15@6.25c; October, 6.30c; December, 6.45@6.50c; March, 6.75@6.90c; April, 6.90c; May, 6.95@7.05c. Sugar, raw quiet; fair refining, 3⅜c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3 27-32c; molasses sugar, 3⅛c; refined quiet; crushed, 5.60c; powdered, 5.00c; granulated, 4.90c.

Pennsy to Improve Approaches in Vicinity of Union Station

With the rejection of the proposition to build a handsome passenger terminal on the cathedral site it is stated that the Pennsylvania railroad will now pay some attention toward putting Liberty street and the approaches to the Union station in more presentable shape. Concerning the Grant street station an official of the Pennsylvania railroad said yesterday: "The idea of building a terminal on the cathedral site was brought up before the present station was constructed. There was also a plan of having the terminal where the present Panhandle freight house is, but this, like the cathedral site, would not do on account of the inability of the engineers to accommodate the train shed to through traffic. The present station, while small, allows the running of through trains from the Pennsylvania railroad to the Panhandle and Ft. Wayne and vice versa. Even as a suburban station a terminal at the cathedral site would not measure up to the requirements. It is somewhat of a task to provide exits and approaches so that passengers can move swiftly and without delay."

On this point the official in question said that much remains to be done about the Union station. It is understood that E. M. Bigelow, director of the department of public works, has been consulted about the matter and will endeavor to remove some of the obstacles on Liberty avenue. It is likely that the street will be repaved, at least from Eleventh street to Smithfield street. The greatest annoyance and inconvenience to passengers is found on Liberty avenue in the fruit dealers, auctioneers and venders of various kinds of merchandise. These men, with their wares, occupy the pavement and usually attract a large and often undesirable crowd. Director Bigelow is not sure as to what can be done with these people, as they can hardly be classed as offenders.

Another River Bridge in Sight.

It is reported that the Pittsburgh Traction Company is going to build a bridge across the Monongahela river at lock No. 4 in order to connect, on the Fayette side, with the Webster, Monessen, Bellevernon and Fayette City street railway, which was bought by the former company. It is said that the line will ultimately enter Uniontown, thus giving a direct trolley line from that city, and intermediate points to Pittsburgh. The Pittsburgh Traction Company now operates from Allenport to a connection with the Pittsburgh city lines. The fare from Bellevernon to Pittsburgh by steam is $1 27 and by trolley 50 cents.

Movements Still Small.

The shipments of coal and coke on the Pennsylvania railroad east of Pittsburgh and Erie are still below the average. For the year ending with June 11, 1904, the movement of anthracite was 1,932,823 tons, against 2,040,332 tons for the same period of the previous year; bituminous, 11,873,935 tons, against 12,241,254 tons, and coke, 3,857,177 tons, against 4,487,852 tons. For the week ending with June 11 the shipments were: Anthracite, 95,976 tons; bituminous, 442,242 tons, and coke, 157,786 tons.

Railroad Notes.

Joseph Biggs, district passenger agent of the Illinois Central, was here yesterday.

W. T. Lechlider, assistant to the general superintendent of transportation, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

M. P. Bonzano has resigned as chief engineer of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern. A successor has not been named.

The Panhandle will shortly receive seven new passenger locomotives. They will be used in the world's fair service.

A. H. Gallaher, station master of the Baltimore & Ohio at Pittsburgh, on Wednesday night celebrated his 41st birthday with a dinner.

The interurban service of the Pennsylvania railroad and Ft. Wayne road, having proved a paying venture, will be extended. The matter is now in the hands of a special committee which will make recommendations. When the service was announced the posters declared it to be "experimental."

Gusher Holding Up at the Rate of 427 Barrels a Day

Developments in the lower southwest fields have been rather light for the past few days. With the exception of the South Penn Oil Company's No. 2 on the E. Whitlatch farm, in the Littleton district, in Wetzel county, W. Va., the recent completions have come in light, or dry. The Whitlatch No. 2 is something of a gusher and is holding up at the rate that has characterized other wells in that district. The last 24 hours' gauge reported, gave its production at 427 barrels. On Bear run, in the same district, the South Penn has not been so fortunate at its test on the Lindsay Grey farm. This well has been drilled through the Gordon and has filled up 2,000 feet with fluid. This would indicate a small pumper, not good for more than 10 barrels a day.

In the Smithfield district, in the same county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 49 on the Blacksnere-Wells farm 45 feet into the Big Injun sand and has not found the pay. It is still drilling and there is still a chance deeper in the sand. In the Pine Grove extension, the South Penn Company has drilled its No. 4 on the Morton Dulaney farm 48 feet into the stray and has developed no oil or gas. The indications favor a duster in the stray.

South of Mannington, Marion county, the Searchlight Oil Company has completed a test on the C. Halpenny farm and will have a 12-barrel pumper in the Gordon. The same company has made the location for a test on the T. B. Holbert farm, adjoining the Halpenny farm. On the east side of the Folsom district, in Harrison county, the South Penn company has drilled its test on the Hays-Higgins farm 34 feet into the Gordon and has found no oil or gas. In the same district, No. 4 on the Fox-Robinson farm is 30 feet in the Gordon and has developed no oil. It loks as though both were destined for the duster aggregation. In the same district the South Penn company has completed its test on the L. D. Harbert farm and has a fair gasser. The well has been turned over to the Carnegie Gas Company.

In the Salem district, in Harrison county, the South Penn company has drileld its second test on the J. R. Dennison farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up but 200 feet with fluid. Unless a shot improves the outlook, it will make a very light pumper. The same company has completed No. 4 on the Charlotte Clark farm and will have a very small pumper in the Gordon. No. 6 on the Silas, Fitro farm and No. 2 on the W. L. Steele farm have been completed. The first is good for 20 and the last 10 barrels a day.

In the Hebron district, Tyler county, the American Oil Development Company and the South Penn Oil Company have completed No. 3 on the Newton Steele farm, in the Maxon sand and found that formation barren. They are now drilling to the lower sands. In the Bens Run district, Pleasants county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the Nancy Smith farm through the Keener and Big Injun sands and found nothing in the lower formation. A little oil was encountered in the Keener and it will probably be shot and tested in that formation.

In the Yellow Creek district, in Calhoun county, C. F. Lowther has shot his test on the J. C. Thomas farm and the well produced 115 barrels the ensuing 12 hours. The Cresco Oil and Gas Company's No. 1 on the S. I. Stillman farm is holding up at 103 barrels a day and is the only one of the older wells in the district that is now producing 100 or more barrels a day. Down in the Milton district, in Cabell county, the Big Lime development is producing 405 barrels a day, distributed as follows: E. W. Beckett Nos. 1 and 2, 115 barrels; Harsbarger Nos. 1 and 2, 200 barrels; Burns Nos. 2 and 3, 35 barrels; C. C. Beckett No. 1, 35 barrels and No. 1 Berkley, 20 barrels.

On the Ohio side, three miles north of Jerusalem, in Belmont county, J. C. Trees and company have drilled a wildcat on the T. L. Haskins farm into the Big Lime and have developed a very strong gas pressure in that formation. This location is in the vicinity of where the Carter Oil Company drilled in a test some time ago and got a small showing of oil in the Big Lime. In the Jerusalem district, in Munroe county, the Eaton Farm Oil Company has drilled in its No. 4 on the G. W. Eaton farm and has a duster in the Keener. In the same development, Mooney and company have completed a second test on the Mary J. Simmeral farm and have a duster in the Keener, but developed a fair gasser in the Big Lime. W. P. Borchers and company have drilled their test on the C. C. Brown farm through the Big Injun and have a duster.

In the Graysville district, in the same county, F. P. Hue and company have completed their No. 8 on the John Hickenbottom farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Keener formation. In the Benwood district, in Washington county, the [illegible]arter Oil Company has drilled its second [illegible]st on the J. M. Hogue farm through all [illegible]nds and has a duster. In the same dis[illegible]ct, F. J. Bitzert and company have drilled [illegible] test on the Samuel Bintz farm through [illegible] sands and had the same kind of luck. [illegible] the Rays Run district, the Henderson Oil Company has started to drill at a second test on the Kalb heirs' farm.

At Joy, Morgan county, the Peoples' national bank has abandoned its No. 6 on the Julia A. Dean farm. A little oil was developed but not enough to make it a paying well. In the Corning district, Perry county, R. H. Gibson and company have completed a test on the J. A. Weaver farm and have a duster. In the same district, Denman Brothers are due in the sand at a test on the J. McCarty farm.

One and one-half mile south of New Alexandria, Jefferson county, the Buckingham Oil Company is reported to have drilled in a wildcat on the H. E. Bozman farm and has a strong gasser in the Berea grit. At Imperial, Alegheny county, E. L. Oles has drilled his second test on the A. McMichael farm and has a paying producer, estimated at 20 barrels a day in the 30-foot sand. In the Bristoria district, Greene county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Jos. W. Webster farm and has a show for a 25-barrel producer. In the same district, the South Penn company has completed a test on the F. M. McCullough farm and has a 35-barrel producer. The Philadelphia company has completed its No. 1 on the Thos. Hughes farm and has a fair gasser. In the Taylorstown district, in Washington county, Leonard and company have tubed their No. 3 on the Ariel Brownlee farm, previously reported a duster, and now have a small pumper.

SEVERE DEPRESSION IN THE COKE TRADE

More Than 1,500 Ovens Blown Out and Others Expected to Be Idle.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., June 16.—Severe depression expresses the situation of the coke trade in the Connellsville region at present. Over 1,500 ovens were blown out last week, reducing the coke production to between 28 and 30 per cent of the region. More ovens are scheduled to be placed upon the idle list this week. Production was reduced 20,000 tons last week and many of the ovens were run on five days turn. In the Masontown field about 20 per cent of the ovens are idle. In the blowing out of ovens the territory between Scottdale and Broadford have suffered most severely. The summary of the region shows 16,906 ovens in blast and 6,147 idle. An average of 5.74 days as compared to 5.86 days was made. The production for the week was 188,983 tons, as compared to 208,831 tons the previous week, a decrease of 19,850 tons.

MANY KILLED BY CYCLONE IN CUBA

Property Also Destroyed at Santiago, Guantanamo and Other Places in Island.

BUSINESS ALMOST PARALYZED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, June 16.—A cyclone of unusual severity, accompanied by unprecedented rain, has caused great damage to this city and the surrounding country. The death list is over 100 and is increasing. The aqueduct has been damaged and a water famine exists.

The storm began Friday and culminated Monday night in 14 inches of rain, which fell in five hours, accompanied by a hurricane. The lower village of El Cobre has been destroyed. Forty-five persons are known to be dead and scores are missing. Bodies are floating in the Cobre river. Twenty bodies have been recovered by boats patrolling the bay. All the bridges on the Cobre railway are out and many bridges have been lost on the Cuba railway. A train which left Havana Saturday is held between washouts 40 miles inland. A relief train, bringing mail and passengers, was wrecked at Moron. The fireman and mail agent were killed and two of the employes were injured. The passengers are safe. The mines of Daiquiri are crippled and six of the employes have been drowned. The pier has been damaged. The city's property loss is enormous. All telegraph and cable lines are disabled.

GUANTANAMO, CUBA, Wednesday, June 15.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The most severe storm on record has swept over Guantanamo. There were showers all Monday and at night a steady downpour of rain began, lasting till noon Tuesday. At 4 a. m. the Guaso Bano and Jaibo rivers were all out of their banks, and sweeping the country, causing loss of life and property. The rivers are still up and there is no communication with outside districts. Ten bodies have been recovered thus far, but much greater loss of life is supposed to have occurred in the low districts beyond the rivers. There are large numbers of dead cattle along the banks. The Guantanamo railroad was washed out near Caimanera. The damage was slight and the road will be open to traffic tonight. The Cuba Eastern railroad is considerably damaged. No bridges have been destroyed but they have been injured. The line between Guantanamo and the tidewater is badly washed out. A bridge which was being constructed by a sugar estate across the Bano river has been carried away. Communication with the rest of the island is cut off completely.

The United States steamer Viven has arrived here from Santiago. She reports many houses destroyed there and 40 persons drowned at El Cobre. Many bridges have been carried away on the Cuba Company's railroad and there have been no trains through since Thursday. Several passenger trains were blocked en route. Bridges on the Cobre railroad have been carried away. The Janagua railroad along the coast east of Santiago suffered badly. It cannot be operated for months. The steamer Tomas Brooks, plying between Heiti and Santiago is reported to have been lost. Business here is almost paralyzed.

M'AFEE SUGGESTS NEEDED CHANGES

State Banking Commissioner Would Regulate Building and Loan Associations.

TO PROTECT SHAREHOLDERS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
HARRISBURG, PA., June 16.

Legislation for the better protection of the shareholders of the domestic and foreign building and loan associations doing business in Pennsylvania is recommended by Robert McAfee, commissioner of banking, in his latest annual report to Gov. Pennypacker.

"The building and loan associations of Pennsylvania," says Mr. McAfee, "have always received the fostering care of the state and have proven to be of vast benefit to the small wage earner in caring for his money at a nominal expense and helpful in assisting him to build or purchase a home.

They have helped to build up the larger cities, such as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg. It has been estimated that in Philadelphia 60,000 homes have been built through their agency and thousands were enabled to pay off mortgages that otherwise would have been foreclosed.

When the business for which they were intended is strictly adhered to, there can be no doubt as to their being an incentive in promoting economy among their shareholders, a love for their homes and a better citizenship. The results thus obtained are a justification for the care given them by the commonwealth.

In late years, however, there has crept into some associations, chartered by the state, practices that were never contemplated by these corporations, and which are not for the best interest of their stockholders. While the associations may bank on the prosperity and well-achieved success of Pennsylvania building associations, and hereby induce subscribers to take shares in their enterprise, they cannot hope to compete with these associations as their methods of business are wholly at variance with a properly conducted association.

Some Companies Deprecated.

By reason of the extraordinary expenses attached to their management they are unable to mature their shares within the time promised, causing in consequence dissatisfaction to the investors therein. While a few of this class are well managed, a majority are not and it is recommended that legislation for all be had that will eradicate the evils complained of, restrain unlawful business and more fully safeguard those who confide their money to their care.

There are companies, generally incorporated in foreign states, and permited by the laws of this state to do business herein, such as home co-operative associations, home building companies, realty companies, bond and investment companies, etc., that require for their regulation some legislation which is heartily recommended.

Mr. McAfee says, in his report, that Gen. Frank Reeder, his predecessor in office, referred to these so-called investment companies and other kindred corporations organized in other states in his report to Gov. Stone in 1902, and he quotes from the report with the explanation that it is just as applicable now as it was then. The report says:

> Quite recently the state has been invaded by representatives of so-called bond investment companies and other kindred corporations, organized in other states, promising impossible returns for investments in the securities offered by such companies. They have persistently solicited our people to make investments in the various forms of securities offered by them to the public.
> A vast amount of money has found its way into the hands of the representatives of these corporations from the people of the commonwealth. The rates of interest and dividends promised to such investors are such as no legitimate investments would return, and subject soliciting companies to grave suspicion as to their good faith.

Legislation is Essential.

At the present time, these companies are not under any state supervision and no method is provided for the protection of our citizens from designing persons who may take advantage of the credulity of those ignorant of finance and business methods. It is deemed important, therefore that some legislation be enacted which will subject foreign companies of the class above described to the supervision of the banking department and at the same time require them to contribute to the maintenance of the department. Such legislation should be drastic and comprehensive.

Mr. McAfee says, in urging this much-needed legislation, that a bill was prepared and introduced in the last legislature covering the ground and after passing the house of representatives met defeat in the senate "for some unexplained reason."

The report exhibits the assets, liabilities, receipts and disbursements, number of shareholders, etc., of the 1,196 building associations making report to the state department of banking, and showing the difference between the years 1902 and 1903:

The total assets and liabilities of these associations for 1903 was $117,861,778 93, an increase of $3,975,758 89 in the assets for 1902. The receipts and disbursements for 1903 were $64,466,311 65, an increase of $3,975,924 17 in the receipts and disbursements for 1902.

The report also contains the following statement:

	1903	1904
Number of associations reporting	1,196	1,178
Number of shares borrowed on	659,384	620,612
Number of shares not borrowed on	1,628,308	1,545,334
Total shares in force at the end of business year	2,287,692	2,165,946
Number of shareholders	313,193	291,768
Number of homes built or purchased	8,754	7,732

Sixty-seven building and loan associations were chartered and rechartered during the year 1903 and 25 others wound up their business, were dissolved by decrees of court or had their corporate name changed.

SUBJECTS DISCUSSED IN WOMEN'S CONGRESS

American Women Take Part in the Proceedings of the Meeting in Berlin.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, June 16.—The subjects discussed at the Women's congress today were "Higher Education and Gymnastics for Girls," "Sick Nursing," "Prison Reform," "The Suppression of Alcoholism," and "Women in Municipal Offices." Mrs. May Wright Sewall of Indianapolis read a paper on "Physical Training for Girls in the Higher Educational Institutions of the United States." She said that as a result of recent progress in physical training a new ideal of women is being created—that of strength and health.

In section two, Miss J. J. Dock of New York spoke of "Sick Nursing in the United States," describing the national association of sick nurses with 6,000 members. The American association, she added, is now seeking to form an international organization of nurses and the German nurses are ready to participate.

Mrs. Goodrich of New York spoke of the situation of American nurses.

Miss Maud Banfield of Philadelphia described the training of American nurses and the provision made for them in their old age.

Lady Battersea of England detailed her 10 years' experience in bettering the treatment of prisoners in London jails.

Miss Belle Kearney of the United States discussed "The Alcohol Evil," and described the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

In section four, Mrs. Sadie of New York explained the workings of the children's court in New York city, and the Rev. Anna Shaw demanded municipal offices for women "since not sex but capacity must decide who can hold office."

ONE KILLED, THREE HURT IN RAILROAD ACCIDENT

EAST ST. LOUIS, MO., June 16.—In a collision between two through passenger trains on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Caseyville, 11 miles east of here, today the engineer of the westbound train was killed and three passengers were seriously injured. A relief train from here took the injured to St. Louis.

In Memoriam.

By the Columbia Bridge Company.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from earth Herbert L. Kountz, a director and secretary of the Columbia Bridge Company, having departed this life on May 17, 1904, it is believed to be eminently fit and proper that we should at our first meeting succeeding his death express our estimation of his character and spread our opinions on the record of the meeting; therefore, be it

Resolved, That by the death of Mr. Kountz his associates and the employes of the company are made sharers in the loss so keenly felt by all to whom he was intimately known, and that in his death we lose an honored member, a painstaking, active officer, who was greatly appreciated for his devotion and loyalty to the interests of all concerned.

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the company and published in the Pittsburgh papers, and that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased.
